Anglo-Russ Blitz Forces Iran to Ask Peace

CONFLICT IN OIL DISTRICT ENDED IN THREE DAYS

Teheran Wireless Reports New Cabinet Appealing For War's Cessation

Roosevelt 'Fairy Tale' Assailed By Berlin Spokesmen

NEW YORK, Aug. 28 — NBC short-wave monitors today heard the London radio broadcast that "all fighting in Iran has ceased." Russo-British occupation of the country is continuing, the broadcast said, but the advance has become a peaceful occupation.

By International News Service
After three days of fighting, Iran today was reported to have given up all attempts to resist Anglo-Russian forces moving deeper into the ancient oil-rich land.

As Iran apparently gave in, history's time-table of this war was given another important date—Iran had capitulated more quickly than any nation but Denmark. It was the nearest thing to a British blitz victory in this war.

Two London dispatches—one circulated by Reuters news agency, the other by the official British radio—said the Teheran wireless today announced that a new cabinet had been formed in Iran and that the new prime minister had given orders for cessation of resistance.

Berlin expressed no surprise. Authoritative German quarters said further Iranian resistance was useless.

"Whether the new situation will compel severance of German-Iranian relations remains to be seen," these German quarters said. The Russo-German war roared (Continued on Page Four)

LINDBERGH GIVEN RIGHT TO USE BALL PARK STAND

OKLAHOMA CITY, Aug. 28—Preparations were being made today to accommodate a crowd of 25,000 persons tomorrow night at the "sandlot" rally of the Oklahoma City chapter of the America First Committee, at which Charles A. Lindbergh and U. S. Senator Burton K. Wheeler (D) of Montana will be the principal speakers.

Announcement that the meeting would be held in what is known as the sandlot ball park just outside the city limits was made by Herbert K. Hyde, local America First chairman, after the committee was refused use of the Municipal Auditorium by the city council.

The ball park has seats for 10,000 persons, but Hyde said temporary seats would be installed for 25,000.

10,000 CIO MEN LEAVE FACTORY

Wildcat Strike Ties Up Operations At Great Lakes Plant

DETROIT, Aug. 28—Ten thousand men were thrown out of work today when what was termed by the management as a "wildcat strike" forced the Great Lakes Steel Corporation in suburban Ecorse to shut down despite pleas by a union leader that the men remain on their jobs.

Today's walkout was another in a series which have occurred frequently since July 15 when the company signed a contract with the Steel Workers' Organizing Committee (CIO).

According to Federal Labor Conciliator James F. Dewey these work stoppages have put the company behind 50,000 tons in its production of steel for National Defense. It was Dewey who set the figure of 10,000 men made idle. The strike came at a time when union leaders were negotiating wage adjustments.

NEW CALIFORNIA, HAWAII RECORD SET BY PLANES

HONOLULU, Aug. 28—A new California-to-Hawaii commercial plane speed record of 13 hours, 55 minutes was chalked up today for three Douglas DC-3 transports. The 24-passenger planes were ferried the 2,400-mile distance from Oakland, Cal. by Douglas pilots for delivery to an airline plying between Honolulu and Hilo. Their time was an hour and three minutes better than the old record, set by Pan-American Airways Pilot Steve Bancroft in the Honolulu clipper last July 2.

SALE OF RESIDENCE FOR 79-CENT DEBT STUDIED

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 28—Public sale of a widow's small home for $118 to satisfy a 79-cent delinquent tax bill was under investigation today by city officials. The 79 cents was a tax balance against the former owner, a war veteran. Mrs. Natalie Myer said she was unaware of the unpaid tax bill when she bought the property in 1936. Yesterday she received a notice informing her that she no longer was the legal owner. "It doesn't require a phenomenon from a standpoint of intelligence on the part of the public official to know that something was wrong when a home was sold for $118 to satisfy a 79-cent tax bill," commented Supervisor Oscar Hauge.

Young Man, Born in County, Hunting Sisters, Brother

A young fellow who gives his name as William Frederick Heise and who claims Jackson Township as his birthplace on December 18, 1911, is trying to find his relatives, whom he has not seen since he was a baby.

Heise appeared at the office of Sheriff Charles Radcliff, Thursday, seeking aid. He had been in probate court, seeking a birth certificate, but no record of his birth was available. County Home records revealed that his parents were Milton and Clara Groce Heise.

He was taken to the Pickaway County Home in infancy, shortly after his mother died in giving him birth. At the age of two years he was adopted by Mr. and Mrs. Jack Mason of Jamaica, L. I. his foster father being projectionist for the movie, "Birth of a Nation" when it was shown in Circleville.

He enjoyed life with the Masons, but his foster father died 14 years ago and his foster mother 18 months ago in Atlantic City. He has been working at odd jobs in Staten Island since his foster mother's death, but has been unable to find a steady job because he has no birth certificate.

He had a brother, Edward Solomon Heise, and two sisters, Lily May and Myrtle Heise, and he is trying to locate them. Any persons having information which may aid the young man are urged to contact Sheriff Radcliff.

NEW CALIFORNIA, HAWAII RECORD SET BY PLANES

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28—The nation's 2,000,000 factories and stores were placed under stringent government regulation to fill defense and lease-lend orders ahead of all other contracts today as the United States was shifted from peacetime to wartime economy.

In the most sweeping decree since the defense program was started more than a year ago, OPM Priorities Director E. R. Stettinius Jr., with the full approval of President Roosevelt and Defense Chiefs William S. Knudsen and Sidney Hillman, issued the regulation setting what he said is a "new basic" policy.

Under it, factories and all other business firms must accept defense orders offered them "even if acceptance of these orders will prevent, or delay, deliveries of non-defense orders. It means, it was explained, that business as usual is out the window and that the nation's entire productive capacity is going to be geared to turn out war materials for the U. S., Great Britain, China and Russia.

Stiff penalties are fixed for non-compliance. For the first time, the OPM threatened to deprive industries of supplies if they fail to cooperate. Such a step would force non-cooperative plants to go out of business. A criminal statute, providing two years in jail or a $10,000 fine or both, for making misrepresentations to the government, also is invoked. It would be applied in cases where firms give unfounded excuses for failure to accept defense orders.

TEST OF DRAFT LAW WINS YOUTH HIS FORMER JOB

NEW YORK, Aug. 28—In the first case of its kind in the country, Sylvester Carra, Brooklyn draftee who had completed his "trick" in the Army, today was given back his old civilian job through intervention by the federal government.

Completion of successful negotiations between the government and the shoe firm for which Carra worked was announced by U. S. Attorney Harold M. Kennedy.

Carra was inducted on May 1 and was honorably discharged on June 27 due to the death of his father. When he re-applied for his job as assistant foreman for Grossman Shoes, Inc., a job he had held for three years, he was told it had been eliminated. Carra reported the incident to his local draft board and the board informed Kennedy, who subpoenaed Morgan Grossman, company president.

Kennedy took his action under a Selective Service Act clause requiring federal prosecutors to act as attorney for discharged draftees seeking to regain their jobs. Grossman, according to Kennedy, agreed to abide by the law which recommends rehiring of draftees, but declared that Carra's job had been eliminated.

Negotiations, however, brought about the agreement to put Carra back on the payroll at his former wage of $20 a week and continue his salary until he found other employment if no work was available at the shoe firm.

Kennedy termed the company's action "commendable and in the full spirit of the Selective Service Act."

ESTONIAN ISLE REPULSES NAZI 'CHUTE ATTACK

STOCKHOLM, Aug. 28—An unsuccessful German attempt to seize the Estonian island of Oesel with a parachute army was reported in a Soviet broadcast heard in Stockholm today. Most of the parachutists were captured, it was said.

Oesel and the island of Nargoe were bombarded by German artillery, it was said. While the Russian forts were undamaged, many farms were ploughed up by shells.

Nargoe has a large Swedish population.

Routes 159-56 And 104-56 Cited As Dangerous

Pickaway County grand jury, which ended its three day session Wednesday afternoon, took cognizance of dangers lurking at two nearby road intersections when it filed a recommendation, which will be submitted to the county commissioners, that flasher signals be placed at Routes 159 and 56, the dangerous Leistville crossing, and Routes 104 and 56, west of Circleville.

The recommendation was voted unanimously by the grand jury, it reported to Judge Meeker Terwilliger.

The Leistville crossing, which is southeast of Circleville on the Laurelville road, has been the scene of numerous fatal accidents.

REPORT ON PAGE 10
The complete report of the grand jury investigation appears on Page 10.

most recent of which was the death of James Franklin Black, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Black. The jury indicted Clyde W. Cooper of Portsmouth, Wednesday, for causing the death of the Black child, when he failed to observe stop signs along Route 159.

The jurors expressed belief that flasher signals would do much to prevent additional accidents at the intersection.

They pointed out the seriousness of the Route 104 and 56 crossings, although this intersection has not taken the heavy toll of life that the 159-56 crossing has taken.

Installation of a flasher at Route 22 and 104 has materially decreased the number of accidents there.

It is believed in court circles that the proper course for the recommendation to take would be to the county commissioners and then to the state highway department.

The jurors also instructed the commissioners to purchase four Bibles for use in the county jail, and a number of song and hymn books to be used there also. Religious services are conducted every Sunday afternoon, but Bibles and song books are needed.

CAMP MEETING'S SIZE OUTLINED FOR ROTARIANS

Rotarians Thursday noon heard representatives of the Church of Christ in Christian Union outline the tremendous effort put into establishing and maintaining the Mount of Praise camp meeting ground where the annual two weeks' session of the Ohio church body is in session.

Speakers included the Rev. O. L. Ferguson, of Circleville, the Rev. Everett Keaton, of Chillicothe, the Rev. E. A. Sager, of Columbus, and the Rev. George Smith, of Circleville.

Information was given on establishment of the camp 23 years ago and how it has grown to the present time when the tabernacle provides seats for 3,000 persons, how beds are provided for a thousand or more persons and how the restaurant, operated by the church, feeds more than 7,500 persons during the course of the meetings.

The speakers issued an attendance invitation to all Rotarians and all citizens of the county, declaring that each session of day or evening provides an interesting and helpful program.

INJURIES KILL SOLDIER

WAUSEON, Aug. 28—Injuries received when the army "jeep" truck in which he was riding crashed through a fence north of Wauseon today caused the death of Lieut. James D. Edwards, 22, of Kirkland, Ill. Lieut. Edwards was attached to the 46th Field Artillery at Fort Custer, Mich., and was riding in a caravan of 2,000 army vehicles enroute from Fort Custer to Brooklyn, N. Y.

PEDESTRIAN, 81, HURT SERIOUSLY BY HEAVY TRUCK

Frank Turner Has Broken Knee, Ankle, Received Wednesday Evening

SHOCK ALSO SUFFERED

Walnut Street Man Becomes Confused, Walks Backward Into Gasoline Hauler

Struck when he was walking in the middle of Route 23, 100 yards north of the Circleville corporation limit, Frank Turner, 81, of Walnut Street, was painfully hurt at 10 p. m. Wednesday. Examination in Berger Hospital disclosed that he was suffering from fractures of the right ankle and right knee and that internal injuries were possible.

Mr. Turner's condition was reported to be "fair," shock adding to the seriousness of his injury.

The aged man was struck by a gasoline truck driven by Homer Hester, 34, of 685 South Terrace Street, Columbus, who drives for the Willett Co., 700 South Desplaines Street, Chicago. The company is under contract to haul Shell Oil Company products.

Hester told Sheriff Charles Radcliff that he saw the man walking north in the middle of the road, and that his speed of about 25 miles an hour permitted him to slow down.

"As I neared the pedestrian," Hester told the sheriff, "he apparently became confused and fell backward several steps, the truck hitting him."

The trucker applied air brakes to his vehicle, stopping it immediately. The truck did not pass over Mr. Turner's body.

The Walnut Street resident was taken to Berger Hospital by Arthur Rinehart and his son, Raymond, Harrison Township, who were passing the scene.

Harold, Arthur and Marvin Marshall of near Stoutsville had also seen Mr. Turner in the street, they told the sheriff, and had narrowly missed him as their car passed. The youths stopped their car and were starting into the road to lead the man to safety when the truck came along.

Hester told Sheriff Radcliff who, with Deputy Bryan Custer, investigated the accident, that he had just received a two-year medal from his company for safe driving, that in that period he had not had a single accident.

Accident Feared

Mrs. Charles Winner, North Court Street, a daughter of Mr. Turner, told the sheriff that she had feared for sometime that her father might be struck by an automobile. Several times he has been found wandering in the street.

Investigating officers believed that Mr. Turner might have been walking through fields prior to the accident, since his clothing was wet.

MYSTERY BLAZE IN MAGNESIUM PLANT STUDIED

SAN JOSE, Cal., Aug. 28—Fire of mysterious origin broke out today in the Todd-California Company's new $12,000,000 magnesium plant, injuring five men, three of them seriously.

Immediately after the blaze was extinguished, federal agents and company officials sought the cause of the fire, indicating that sabotage might have been suspected.

Ralph Knight, chief engineer of the plant, said the fire occurred during experiments unrelated to actual plant production. The flames, Knight said, were extinguished quickly with magnesium oxide powder, confining damage to a minimum.

PROPAGANDISTS SENT TO DEATH ON GUILLOTINE

Attack On Pierre Laval Signal For Fast Move On Terrorists

PRISON TERMS ORDERED

Two Bullets Hit Former Premier; Three Others Wounded By Youth

BERLIN, Aug. 28—Paul Collette, self-confessed attempted assassin of Pierre Laval, today admitted he is a follower of Gen. Charles De Gaulle, according to the Paris paper Midi, the official German news agency DNB reported from Paris today. As a result, it was said, police began a wholesale search for De Gaulle hideouts as well as communist nests.

VICHY, Aug. 28—Moving swiftly to end a wave of alleged Communist terrorism culminating in the attempted assassination of Pierre Laval, German authorities in Paris today guillotined three convicted Communist propagandists, according to word received in Vichy.

The gleaming blade fell at the famous old Sainte Prison, where for decades past political prisoners have been incarcerated.

The victims apparently were Abraham Trezbruche, a Russian Jew, Emil Jean Bastard and Andre Brichet, who had been condemned to death by a special tribunal for disseminating Communist propaganda.

As the men met their death in the midst of a sweeping roundup of all dissident elements in Paris, authorities in unoccupied France began to "crack down."

Two unidentified British subjects were sentenced to 20 years at hard labor and a French citizen to 10 years for spreading "Free French" propaganda on behalf of Gen. Charles De Gaulle. The sentences were handed down at Marseilles.

Details reached Vichy today of the rapid-fire judgment meted out by the Paris tribunal, which met for the first time yesterday under the presidency of M. Bonon.

The proceedings were strictly secret, the public being barred, and only half a dozen policemen were needed to keep the curious on their way.

Sentences Sudden

The first prisoner summoned was Leon Redondeau, 53, described as a taxpayer of the Paris suburb of Malakoff. He was charged with active propaganda and resisting officers when arrested last July. Seven years at hard labor.

Then came Pierre Lamant. No details of his offenses were made (Continued on Page Four)

F. D. R. CONFERS WITH NOMURA; TOPIC UNKNOWN

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28—In proceedings that have no parallel in Nipponese-American relations in recent years, the Japanese ambassador, Kichisaburo Nomura, today delivered a personal message from the prime minister of Japan to President Roosevelt.

Nature of the message was not disclosed.

Following a 40-minute conference with the President and Secretary of State Cordell Hull at the White House, the Japanese ambassador said, in response to questions, that he was not informed of any plans by Japan to stop by force the shipment of American supplies to Russia via Vladivostok. Although the Japanese envoy declined to divulge the nature of the message from the prime minister—Prince Konoye—he indicated that it did not involve any possible rupture of relations between the United States and Japan.

Asked whether he expected to return to Tokyo in the near future, Admiral Nomura said: "You mean that I may be getting my passport soon? I certainly hope not."

CITY MUST END ITS SUPPORT AT MEMORIAL HALL

Council President Informs Commissioners All Aid Will Be Stopped

MONEY PROBLEM CRUCIAL Aldermen Participate In Informal Discussion Of Problem

John C. Goeller, president of Circleville council, told councilmen Wednesday evening that he had informed the county commissioners that because of a depleted treasury that Circleville would be unable to provide a janitor, coal, light or gas for Memorial Hall after September 1.

He said "the commissioners are considering the emergency."

Council was called into special session Wednesday evening, but because of absence of three councilmen the meeting was not conducted. Instead, the officials sat in council chamber for about an hour discussing the financial situation, and taking no definite steps concerning its alleviation.

Mr. Goeller is in favor of cutting the police department to three men, he told his colleagues, but encountered stern opposition especially from Councilman J. D. Mason who insisted that the police department is the one unit in city government which brings money into the general fund.

Mayor Cady also figured in the discussion relating the importance of police department fines and costs in operating the city. He compared fines collected during his present term and in 1936 when Mr. Goeller was mayor.

The next regular session of council will be Wednesday, September 3.

ASHVILLE

By S. D. Fridley
Ashville, Phone 79

Two of the WAR spiders that we told you about the other day, have been, by some over charged investigation, destroyed along with their work, but one yet remains, so John Wilkins told yesterday evening, and is faithfully working away building the ground or net work for whatever lettering it may have in mind to print. Many of us are interested in the work of this bug, insect or what you may choose to name it. We'll keep in touch, through Mr. Wilkins, with the work it is doing and keep you posted about its performance.

Ashville—Our Walter Gregg, son of Herb and Mrs. Gregg, has accepted one of several places offered him as a teacher in high school as athletic coach and mathematics. He will begin work next week at New Athens, Harrison County. He has been there this week, looked things over, secured boarding quarters and will begin teaching on his own account next week. He is a local high school product along with State University. The county high school basketballers of a few years back will remember Walter as having the stuff it takes to be a winner in ball games. Walter's brother Jay is up at Findlay now pitching winning ball for that team.

Ashville—Moving talk has been changed to action, Mrs. Blanch Baker removing from her Long Street home to what is known as the Mrs. Briggs property near the U. B. Church. Mrs. Dora Baum will occupy today, the place made vacant by Mrs. Baker and Ed Irwin and family to their own home on East Main Street.

And Claude Kraft and family are removing here from Circleville occupying the remodeled Mrs. Schiff dwelling on East Street. Mr. Kraft is cashier at the Ashville Bank. Profs. Brobst and Carter, music and athletic teachers, are getting set in their living quarters here within the next couple of days, so we were told yesterday.

Ashville—George Brintlinger of Cleveland is here visiting at the home of his grandparents, Hoadly and Mrs. Brintlinger. . . Oda Helvering, who received in a fall some weeks ago a broken leg and is being cared for at the home of Mrs. Bowers, is now able to set up.

Ashville—At headquarters, it was semi-officially announced that three of the West Side present members of the village council will refuse to permit their names to be used on petitions for re-election candidates. We will be investigating this report to find out what's it all about and why? A week from tomorrow is "deadline" filing time. The supreme court may be called back from its vacation to do some ticket picking and other things that need attention.

WEST VIRGINIA SOPRANO

Mary Lou Creighton, gifted young Charleston soprano, will appear as the "Chance of a Lifetime" soloist on the "Summertime Concert" over WLW at 10 p. m. Sunday, August 31. Miss Creighton will be heard in the "O Patria Mia" aria from Giuseppe Verdi's celebrated opera "Aida." William Stoess will conduct the orchestra, providing the soprano's accompaniments as well as a group of selections featuring the various instruments of the ensemble.

Born in Charleston, W. Va., Miss Creighton was encouraged to devote herself to music because of the unusual quality of her voice. She enrolled at the Cincinnati Conservatory of Music, where she studied voice under John Hoffman, piano with Grace Woodruff, and organ with Dr. Carl H. Grimm. At the time of graduation, the gifted musician was awarded the Etelka Evans prize in music history.

VAN STEEDEN TUNE

Peter Van Steeden, the band leader, who just composed "V For Victory," is working on another tune, this one dedicated to American patriotism.

NEW CUGAT RHUMBA

Got a good name for an off-tempo rumba? Xavier Cugat plans to introduce a dance brought back from Cuba by Miguel Valdez, his Afro-Cuban vocal star. Miguelito discovered Cuban natives doing the unique rumba but as far as he could learn they have no name for it.

Cugat hopes to introduce the stepping style at New York's Harvest Moon Ball but in the meantime the problem is what to call it. If you have any good names up your sleeve, you might send the maestro a postcard, care NBC, New York.

SLOAN INTO MOVIES

Everett Sloane actor in "Mr. District Attorney," expects to bow out of that series for a while soon. Sloane is one of the radio personalities who is being summoned to the west coast by Orson Welles for picture work. He was in "Citizen Kane" along with Agnes Moorehead and Ray Collins, also of radio.

LEVANT STILL ON AIR

Although Oscar Levant has been booked for a full tour of 31 concerts his dates are being arranged to allow him time off for appearances on the "Information Please" stanzas. His concerts will combine talks with piano wizardry.

RADIO BRIEFS

Kay Kyser last week played to the biggest crowd in the history of his "College of Musical Knowledge" radio series when he aired his program from Lockheed Aircraft Corp. before almost 7,000 employees. It was the first radio show presented in a vital defense industry and necessitated special okays from Washington for everyone connected with the program before they could get into the plant.

Billy Mills will be one of the busiest music directors in radio this winter, with three coast-to-coast programs on the air. He'll baton "Fibber McGee," "Hap Hazard," and the new show starring Hal Peary titled, "The Great Gildersleeve."

Hedda Hopper returns to her "Hedda Hopper's Hollywood" on Wednesday, September 3, after three weeks of roughing it in the Canadian Rockies. She'll resume her dramatizations of movie stars' lives, along with her regular Hollywood gossip.

For the third straight week Meredith Willson's radio theme tune, "You and I," has topped all songs in the country in sheet music sales and now lands the runner-up position in network airings. More than 150,000 sheet music copies and 200,000 records have been sold.

HAPPY RELIEF FROM PAINFUL BACKACHE

Many of those gnawing, nagging, painful backaches people blame on colds or strains are often caused by tired kidneys—and may be relieved when treated in the right way. The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking excess acid and poisonous waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 quarts a day.

If the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters don't work well, poisonous waste matter stays in the blood. These poisons may start nagging backaches, rheumatic pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder. Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

AIRCRAFT UNION VICTOR IN CURTISS-WRIGHT VOTE

COLUMBUS, Aug. 28—Rumors that the Aircraft Independent Vertical Labor Union has gained victory in its drive for certification as the sole bargaining agent for 2,500 employees of the Columbus Curtiss-Wright airplane plant circulated freely today.

Labor Conciliator Hugh D. Friel, who has been standing by of a general walkout, said he had been given to understand that the National Labor Relations Board has dismissed formal charges against Curtiss-Wright alleging that Aircraft is a "company-sponsored" union.

Philip G. Phillips, regional NLRB director at Cincinnati, refused official comment. He did say, however, that the NLRB's report had been mailed to representatives of the United Auto and Aircraft Workers (CIO) which filed the charge. Aircraft claims a more than 1700 members in the Curtiss-Wright plant, an employee majority of 85 percent.

HEALTH DIET FOR CADETS

SAN ANTONIO, Tex.—It's just too bad for any would-be U. S. Army flier who doesn't happen to like milk or eggs, for example. Everyone of the aviation cadets at Kelly Field is required to eat the following every day: a quart of sweet milk; two eggs; six pats of butter; one-and-a-half ounces of cheese; and either a green or yellow vegetable. These foods are all rich in Vitamin A, which it has been found prevents night blindness.

Commercially speaking, any small fish of the herring family is a sardine. The true sardine is also called the pilchard.

NEW TAX LEVIES BEING STUDIED BY COMMITTEE

Boost In Excess Profits, Increase In Surtax Suggested

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28.—New tax levies to raise $400,000,000 annually and increase the proposed new tax bill to $4,000,000,000, were recommended to the Senate Finance Committee in secret session today by a special sub-committee.

The proposed additional taxes, it was understood, included an increase from 6 to 7 percent in the surtax on corporate income above $25,000 a year, and from special excise taxes.

The sub-committee, composed of Sens. Brown (D) Mich., and Danaher (R) Conn., worked out the suggested tax increase program with Assistant Secretary of the Treasury Sullivan and representatives of the joint congressional tax committee.

Acceptance by the finance committee, however, was doubtful despite the assertion of some members that increasing defense expenditures necessitates an increase in the tax bill beyond the original goal $3,500,000,000 annually.

ARTIST'S SON FOLLOWING DAD, TO HIS AMAZEMENT

CHICAGO, Aug. 28.—Edgar Miller, Chicago artist, was sure today that his one-year-old son, Norman, has begun exceptionally early in life to follow in his father's footsteps.

Miller was sure of it, but not happy about it.

Norman revealed his artistic bent by spreading pretty red, green and black paint all over a mural—44 feet by five feet—which Miller had just completed for a loop store, after weeks of work.

The youngster smeared the painting when Miller was taking a nap, taking special delight, Papa Miller said, in the effects of red, green and black paints.

"Norman just stood there, his eyes shining when I found him," Miller related. "I just gulped and led him away."

Miller said he believed the damage could be repaired, but he vowed: "After this, my paints will be kept on a high shelf."

Printing Machinery Found

This man, the court was told, was a Communist leader of long standing. He had been arrested before for general activities, but successfully obtained his freedom. In a recent round-up, a printing machine was found in his home that had been used for printing propaganda leaflets. Death.

French and German authorities in Paris were expected to make a thorough clean-up of the former capital to prevent a possible repetition of the incident at the Versailles barracks yesterday when an alleged Communist, posing as an anti-Bolshevik volunteer, wounded Laval, Marcel Deat, Colonel Durvy and another man.

A clear indication of the course the predicted "purge" in Paris would take was given by the newspapers Moniteur and Petit Journal.

Both blamed the attempt on Communists and said: "The crime of Versailles more than justifies the measures taken by the French government for suppression of the Communist party, which recognizes such acts of terror."

The attempted assassinations have caused "universal indignation" throughout France, the papers said.

"No doubt can prevail," Moniteur added, "as to the danger of which all French statesmen are exposed if they desire reconstruction of their country within the orbit of the new Europe."

Moniteur lashed out at "foreign agents" whom it accused of complicity in the attempt.

A "vast Communist plot" was generally blamed for the incident. Laval, chief apostle of French collaboration with Germany, was struck by two bullets.

Operation Necessary
An operation was performed on Laval and the bullets were removed from his arm and chest. His condition was described as serious but not critical.

Marcel Deat, one of Laval's principal aides, who also was wounded, likewise was in serious condition. He was struck by a bullet in the chest near the heart.

The young would-be assassin was held subject to court martial and death before a firing squad.

The incident climaxed a series of disorders for which both Vichy authorities and German officials in occupied France had prescribed drastic penalties, including death.

A few hours after the shooting the new summary court martial to "combat Communist and Anarchist activities" opened its first session in Paris with large forces of police mobilized around the court house to maintain order.

More Nazi Claims
Germany today claimed new victories over the Russians. A Berlin announcement claimed 35 Red air force planes were shot down, two Soviet auxiliary cruisers were damaged and heavy losses inflicted on Red army troops.

In the midst of these tidings of war and thunder, an almost poignant report of a great peace offensive came from Bangkok today.

In far-away Thailand, official quarters said the government would appeal to all belligerents soon for an immediate peace—a peace based on the philosophy of Buddhism of abhorrence of war.

In addition to new victory claims, Germany had other words to say today about the international situation. The German foreign office Diplomatic Correspondence used the Iran invasion as a springboard for another attack on President Roosevelt.

It claimed developments in Iran have "definitely ended the fairy tale of Roosevelt as a protector of innocent victims of aggression."

Moscow announced a new victory over the 132nd German division on the west bank of the Dnieper River and said more than 6,000 Nazi soldiers were killed.

Berlin military authorities said the German forces have hammered out new operating bases north and south of Smolensk at the center of the front and that the Germans are expected to launch a new drive to the east in wedge formation.

SOLDIERS HELP NEGRO FAMILY AS HOUSE BURNS

Nelson Lape Of Circleville One Of Camp Shelby's Latest Heroes

YOUNGSTER IS REMOVED

Cry For Aid Brings Quick Aid From Members Of Medical Outfit

Editor's Note: The following interesting story was received Thursday by The Daily Herald from Camp Shelby, Miss., home base of Ohio's 37 Division now on maneuvers in Louisiana. It mentions a Circleville youth.

With The 37th Infantry Division in Southwestern Louisiana, Aug. 28.

Little acts of heroism go almost unnoticed because our men in uniform perform such deeds of valor in line of duty as part of a day's work.

Two such episodes have been written by Ohioans of the 37th Infantry Division in recent days. One such performance by soldiers occurred near the 37th Division rear echelon at Gills, La.

In this particular case enlisted men, led by Lieut. William A. Chainski, New York, extinguished a fire that threatened to destroy the little home of a colored family.

Lieut. Chainski, officer in charge of the rear echelon medical detachment, heard cries of "Help!" as he wandered not far from his bivouac.

Calling to Private First Class Nelson Lape, Circleville, O., also of the medical detachment, Lieut. Chainski made a dash for the vicinity from which the sound emanated, about 400 yards away.

Arriving, he found a small blaze licking away at the roof-top of a small wooden house. The colored mother was so alarmed to the extent that she was unable to do anything for herself.

Lape Removes Child

She had carried two small children from the house. A third still sat inside near the doorway. Lieut. Chainski directed Lape to remove the child from the house.

By this time four members of the Military Police Company, 37th Division, came bounding on the scene, having been attracted by the cry for aid. They had been fishing in a nearby stream.

The Military Police were Corp. Tony LaBranch, Cleveland; Arlen Dorsey, Akron; William Campbell, Columbus, and Ray Cleary, Cleveland.

An unidentified soldier from another regiment also arrived on the scene.

A water bucket was obtained at a well 50 feet from the house, and Lieut. Chainski formed a bucket brigade.

A rickety old ladder was placed against the side of the house and Lieut. Chainski climbed up to the roof. Water was rushed to him via the bucket brigade and the work was done speedily because the bucket had a leak in it.

The small blaze soon was put under control but not before quick thinking on the part of Private Cleary had saved another soldier from perhaps serious injury.

Another Falls

The unidentified soldier, whose part in the bucket brigade placed him at the top of the ladder, fell backward to earth when a rung gave way. Private Cleary, standing a few feet away, rushed under the ladder and broke the fall by partially catching his fellow soldier.

When the fire was finally put out, Lieut. Chainski examined the children to see that they were all right. Satisfied that they were, Lieut. Chainski told them it was safe to go back inside.

The colored mother could hardly speak her appreciation for what the soldiers had done.

The other episode was scene near the 147th Infantry bivouac area when Private Joe Schrand, Cincinnati rescued Corporal Jule Mayer, Cincinnati, from possible drowning.

It happened in the Sabine River where the boys were swimming. Corporal Mayer overestimated his endurance and sank under the water in midstream. Private Schrand went to the rescue and pulled his fellow townsman ashore.

In St. John's church at Hampton, built in 1727, can be found the oldest silver communion service in use in America. It bears date of 1617.

McNary nomination when he comes up for re-election next year. McNary stands high in Roosevelt's esteem and Administration chiefs have expressed approval of the non-partisan plan. . . . Although 1944 is still a long way off, Illinois' ambitious Governor Dwight H. Green already is dreaming dreams about the GOP presidential nomination. Political intimates launched a boom for him at a luncheon at French Lick attended by GOP bigwigs from Indiana, Illinois and Kentucky. In political circles the affair is viewed as savoring strongly of a "stop Willie" movement. . . . Senator "Curly" Brooks, militant Illinois isolationist, will have tough opposition for the GOP nomination next spring. Former Representative Ralph E. Church is planning to oppose Brooks squarely on his isolationist record.

other valuable prizes to highly-paid factory workers would bring a storm of protests from the families of selectees now serving their country for $21 a month.

But Admiral Robinson is sticking by the Lasker scheme, and the gentlemen in gold braid now have another weighty problem to keep them in fighting mettle.

NOTE: Comptroller General Warren Lindsay, asked for an informal opinion on the Lasker plan, warned that he would not approve any expenditures for cash prizes.

CAPITAL CHAFF There's a story going around Washington that Emperor Haile Selassie, after returning triumphant to his people in Ethiopia, sent a cable to Churchill saying, "Now that we've finished the job, what do we do with the tools?" . . . Daily diplomatic reports to the State Department from London are so voluminous it takes two hours merely to read them. . . . A new annex of the British Embassy is just being completed. This is the third addition to the Embassy establishment since the war began.

PROPHET No. 1 prophet of the isolationist cause is Senator Burt Wheeler. Two years ago, Wheeler also made an interesting prophecy regarding the railroads.

To stimulate lagging heavy goods industries in 1939, the President sent to Congress the so-called Lend-Spend bill containing a $500,000,000 item whereby the government would finance the railroads in order to buy thousands of freight cars and other needed equipment.

Wheeler vehemently opposed this, contending the carriers had plenty of freight cars, and as chairman of the Interstate Commerce committee, was able to kill the plan.

Today, with each passing week setting new freight records, the railroads are frantically beseeching Defense chiefs for greater steel priorities to build freight cars which Wheeler had airily predicted were unneeded. Of the 100,000 cars tardily ordered last winter for delivery by October, more than 20,000 will not be ready on time.

In fact, at the present rate of output of 6,000 a month, the full order will not be completed until next January.

THURANSKI, MORRIS PAY Steve Thuranski and Don Morris, ordered into court this week for violation of the law against operating in the "numbers" game, paid $50 gambling assessments each to Mayor W. B. Cady.

Lasker delegated the job to his son, Edward, who after lengthy cogitation, finally emerged with one of the most elaborate hoaxes ever conceived by an advertising agency to hypnotize a million dollar client.

The presentation covered 30 pages and called for cash prizes, awards of wrist watches, picking the best plant of the week, month, six months, and so on. The plan had everything in it but a dog show.

Young Lasker's creation immediately raised a furore in Navy press circles, where it was pointed out that the cost would run into millions, and would require a staff of several hundreds to operate it. Also dishing out cash and

THE WORD OF CHURCHILL

PEOPLE are so confused. They keep asking when we are going to get into the war. Only one man, said Winston Churchill, can put the United States into war. That man is Adolf Hitler. The United States attacks no nation.

But let us be clear about war. One kind is a shooting war. Great Britain is in that kind now. Another is a production war. We are in that kind. We have voted to stand by Great Britain with leasing, lending and making the means of war. There is no question about when or whether we are going into the war. We are in it now, up to our necks in production.

Whether or not we shall get into a shooting war no one yet knows. We are in a making war now. There is no such thing as peace on earth until the Nazi menace is put down. Talk about peace is futile for the present.

Our men in training are our reserve defense. We need and honor them. Our men in production are on the fighting lines. They are our first line defenders. They should be recognized and honored as such. They should know themselves as defenders and take their positions with seriousness and self-respect.

Most citizens believe that strikes and slow-downs as little place now as insurrection in the army or mutiny in the navy. Decent wages, hours not too long for health, are any worker's due. The soldiers are fed, clothed, sheltered and trained besides getting their twenty-one dollars. Greed has no standing. Jurisdictional arguments can wait. Duty and sacrifice are the order of the day. We have a war to win. The better we go at it the quicker it will be over.

BY-PASSING DAKAR

After all the puzzle and controversy about that port of Dakar, on the West African coast, as a peril to America and a possible stepping stone from America to Europe, apparently we don't need to bother about it.

Recent news indicates that Britain and the United States are arranging jointly for the use of a seaport in Sierra Leone, a British colony four or five hundred miles south of Dakar. It has a better seaport and doesn't have to be fought for. Apparently it will serve nicely as a landing and jumping-off place for American warplanes on the new routes being opened across North Africa to the Mediterranean and the Near East.

Incidentally the nearness to Dakar of such a British-American base may dissuade the Nazis from trying to seize the former place.

'ROUND CIRCLEVILLE ... Hour by Hour

Pages From the Diary of An Antiquated Reporter:

Out and about the village at the usual hour, finding but scanty stir. Visited the new phone company building and then with Dee Early went through the present quarters. In Dec's office is a beautiful black marble fireplace of considerable age. Comes out, of course, when the building is torn down. Looks like quite an item for anyone interested in antiques. One doesn't see that kind of fireplace now.

Coincidence bobs up everywhere. Some is interesting, some not. This one is. Jane Littleton and Mary Newmyer became brides August 24. Mr. and Mrs. George Littleton and Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Newmyer, parents of the brides also were married on the same day, the Littleton ceremony being performed in the Methodist parsonage here June 23, 1909, and the Newmyer nuptials being on the same day at Pittsburgh.

Saw the automobile in which two, lost their lives north of town Tuesday morning. There really is a wreck. Might be a good idea to display that car in front of the courthouse to show motorists just what is possible to happen in an accident. I know that sight of such a wreck as that slows down my driving for a considerable period of time.

Noted with interest the grand jury's recommendations that the proper local authorities seek to impress the highway department with necessity for placement of flasher signals at the intersection of Routes 159 and 56 at Leislerville and the intersection of 104 and 56 west of the ville. Both are very dangerous crossings and need more protection than they have at the present time.

Came a card from Pete Neff, who with his wife and Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Stebleton, is vacationing at Lake Nippising. Rain, cold and high winds have interfered with fishing, but some big ones have been caught and some muskies have been temporarily on hook. The North woods is a dismal place when the weather is bad.

Spike Hill dropped in to discuss the recent nail keg derby and to discuss plans for next year's event. Spike was not pleased by the appearance of this year's racers and plans racer building projects for the four recreation centers this Winter. Will show the boys how to build racers that look like racers rather than like an old board with four wobbly wheels. Also the starting ramp will be enlarged to accommodate four cars next year. Prizes may be awarded to the boys entering the best appearing cars.

Met Fred Tipton who last week landed the largest bass of his fishing career and who is having the beauty mounted. Fred is fortunate in that Deer Creek practically runs through his back yard. Does some fishing three or four times a week. And who wouldn't with a great fishing stream that close.

Home in the late afternoon for a quiet evening of reading. Started and finished "Let The Gun Talk," and turned toward bed at a late hour, detouring first to the back yard with the dog and then to the ice box for a tasty snack.

Daily Washington Merry-Go-Round

BY DREW PEARSON AND ROBERT S. ALLEN

ROOSEVELT'S ATTACK

WASHINGTON—There was real political dynamite behind that letter President Roosevelt sent the Young Democrats convention in Louisville blasting Democratic isolationists as "obstructionists who are in the wrong party."

The scorching attack was a tip-off on undercover plans which may make next year's congressional elections the hottest in years.

Nothing has been said about it, but certain Administration and Republican leaders have discussed uniting Democratic and Republican forces to oppose all congressional isolationists regardless of party label.

Under the proposed plan, Administration-GOP backing would be thrown behind incumbent anti-isolationist Congressmen whether they are Democrats or Republicans. Furthermore strong coalition candidates would be entered against isolationist Congressmen seeking re-election.

One of the most significant things about the plan is that it has the hearty approval of Wendell Willkie.

Discussing it with a group of friends the GOP standard bearer declared, "The people should have the opportunity in every senatorial and congressional election next year for a clear-cut expression of opinion on this all-important issue of foreign policy. This referendum should not be cluttered up with phony or inconsequential issues."

"In districts represented by isolationists we should put the strongest candidate in the field we can get, regardless of his party label or economic views. I'd like to see young men and women brought into this campaign. Let's get away from the old political hacks. Let's bring youth into this fight. It's theirs primarily and they should be in the lead in it."

"Personally, I am prepared to support anti-isolationist candidates regardless of their party affiliation or economic views. If they are right on the foreign issue, then I will be for them and will take the stump for them."

BETWEEN CHURCHILL'S LEGS

Falla knows the story of the bone, but he won't talk, so we had to get it from the Secret Service.

The President's black Scottie, Falla, went with him for the historic meeting with Churchill. When the serious talks began, a Marine was instructed to take the dog away and entertain him.

The best entertainment for a dog, reasoned the Marine, is a bone, so he provided a large one from the ship's galley. Falla took it, but instead of dropping to the floor for a contented gnaw, he ran away.

The Marine pursued, and when he finally caught up with Falla, the dog was attacking the bone in a strategic position between two pairs of legs. One pair belonging to Winston Churchill, and the other pair belonged to his master.

Gleans List of Football Deaths and Casualties

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

● Last year when I protested against the useless and senseless annual crop of injuries in football, I was told that there was "not very much football injury."

Inasmuch as reports that various coaches and athletic directors give out are utterly unreliable, I employed a clipping bureau to send me the records of all football injuries. My list is not a complete list, I am sure, because my clipping bureau operates in only one section of the country, and in mid-season I had to ask for a wider distribution of reports. But even so, the summary is appalling.

Dr. Clending will answer questions of general interest only, and then only through his column.

I take the liberty of laying these results before the fathers and mothers whose boys are urged to play in High School football. It would also apply to college football but the players there should be old enough to look out for themselves.

Nature of Injury

Total number of men injured (some received more than one injury), 675.
College or University 192
High School or Junior College 443

A Ghastly Record

What a ghastly record! Nine deaths — without counting one mother who committed suicide because her son was killed in a game.

Why this unnecessary and avoidable carnage? For the honor of the school? Nonsense — scholarship constitutes the honor of the school.

No — for a game only a few can play, that injures rather than promotes health, that is abysmal in its stupidity, that in ethics has descended to the level of the numbers racket.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

C. D. B.: "What causes a heart to skip beats? My fiancée is bothered by this trouble. Sometimes the skips are quite frequent. She had a near nervous breakdown about ten years ago, and is subject to moderate depressive spells."

Answer: Skipping heart-beats that can be felt by the patient are a common form of the regularity of the heart and have no serious significance. They are called extrasystoles and are probably caused by nervousness.

CHAPTER THIRTY-SIX

SCOTT BEGAN his campaign the following morning over coffee at one of the sidewalk cafes. In a serious voice he addressed Ylena and Rose. "There's more to Havana than Sloppy Joe's and Morro Castle. There's a baker's dozen of these kind of places, and we should have at least coffee at every one of them before we go back to La Madera. There's Castilla de la Punta and the Castles Principe, Cabanas and Atares. You owe it to your historical soul to visit them. And La Merced Cathedral and the Beneficencia Convent full of orphans. There's the Columbia Cathedral, where Columbus is supposed to be buried — although I'll bet he isn't — and the Hershey sugar mills and the cock fights. If you can stomach them — Oh, there are ever so many places, Ylena — we're going everywhere!"

They did. And as days followed, one after the other, the girl realized there was heart-balm in travel, that her injured feelings were salvaged in the diligent but delightful work connected with being a tourist. There was no time to brood. Scott saw to that. Time had to be spent planning, in dressing, eating, and in open-mouthed, wide-eyed gawking, as they made their way here and there on various expeditions.

To the several fortresses where Ylena tried earnestly to form mental pictures of the past. To the convent where benign nuns watching over solemn, pathetic little orphans, gave soft-voiced Spanish assurance that they were to accept the candy and toys from the visitors. To En Canto, where Scott bought Ylena an embroidered Spanish shawl, bottles of French perfume, a mantilla, and handkerchiefs of gossamer lace. To the peaceful cathedrals.

Late afternoons, they strolled along the streets, grateful that the upper stories of business building projected over the sidewalks, and provided shade. And at night they walked along the Prado, where the moonlight sifted through the arched laurel trees and fell upon the patterned marble, in silvery patches.

When they had done the town, competently, Scott began his familiar tune. "There's more to Cuba than Havana. The tourist bureau is right."

Rose said dryly, "He's started again. I'll begin packing."

"You must admit it's foolish," Hamilton persisted, "for Ylena not to see the island while we're here. Let's go to Mariel. The Cuban Naval Academy is there, and to Batabano over on the Caribbean to watch the sponge fishermen."

"Sponge," Ylena said. "That reminds me. I'm probably the biggest one up to date. We've got to get down to work figuring out my share of the cost of this trip, Scott."

"Wait until we have back to La Madera, where we have an adding machine," he squinted his eyes and continued plans. "Let's hire Pepe to drive us so we can just sit back and relax. We'll go down the Central highway to Mantanzas, and see the beautiful Caves of Bellamar. And Ylena," he smiled in malicious good humor, "you haven't really lived until you have seafood at the Gran Paris in Mantanzas. We'll drop down to Cienfuegos. It has a gorgeous old cathedral with altars enough for everybody and a nice old colonial cemetery to prowl around in. The countryside is full of rivers and cascades, so you'd better see them while you can. You won't have any water in the rivers when you get back to La Madera. We can go over to Trinidad and scout around. That's the second oldest town in Cuba. Has ancient colonial residences. Some paved with old-time coins of gold, Ylena. Be a good stout for some of your exclusive customers. Tish or old Alkire, either one might go for something fancy like that. What do you say to the idea?" He looked toward Ylena.

"It leaves me breathless," she said.

Verbally exhausted, Scott gulped air. "It leaves me breathless, too." The tooth-displaying Pepe, when approached, was rapturous over a trip, but desolated over leaving Posephina, his bride of two weeks. Very quickly he dropped hot tears over the thought, until Hamilton suggested Josepina, a maid for Ylena, whereupon the tears ceased as quickly as they had popped forth. Ylena sent a message to Barker, outlining their itinerary, suggesting that important and personal mail be sent either to Santiago de Cuba or Kingston, Jamaica, and gave her the approximate dates they would be in those cities. The tour began, Ylena, Scott and Rose back of a pair of honeymooning doves.

In aimless wandering, they lost all track of time and duty. There it was, unwinding before them, rich, lush beauty, inescapable, irresistible. Mountain ranges, dense tropical forests of royal palms, fields of sugar cane, tobacco and pineapple. Banana groves. Interesting little historical villages, typically Cuban.

Everywhere, lovely hotels with 18-foot ceilings and tiled floors. A particularly charming one was in Camaguey, the "sugar bowl" of Cuba, a cavalry barracks, originally, a place of spacious corridors and tropical flower gardens. Fat earthen jars were everywhere.

Scott informed his companions, "These were used to store water during colonial days."

"I thought they were used to store all Baba," Rose said. Despite crisp remarks, Rose was enjoying every minute of the trip. Both she and Ylena were gaining, not only physically, but mentally.

From there they made their way on through mountainous splendor, down to ancient Santiago de Cuba, perched on the edge of the Caribbean.

"We'll rest at this jumping-off place," Scott decided for the group, "while we make up our minds what to do next." Days of doing nothing — just resting, eating, sleeping, swimming, sauntering through the streets, climbing to Boniata hill for a superb view of the city. A lapse of memory of a very pleasant, caressing, unfrustrating sort.

"Having a good time, Ylena?" Scott asked her during one of their meandering walks.

"Of course!" she instantly responded.

He asked quickly, "What day is it?"

"Tuesday," she said, then changed her mind. "No — Wednesday. She looked falteringly at Hamilton and spread her hands in a puzzled gesture. "I don't know what day it is."

Scott laughed. "That just goes to prove how unimportant time is." On Sunday they watched the "promenade" from the veranda of the Casa Grande hotel, and finally joined it, marching around and around to the music of the band, along with the young Cuban men in their white suits, and the dark-eyed romantically thrilled girls.

After that Sunday ceremony they went to one of the native places where Scott's expert Spanish and experience with the Latin gained them a safe welcome. There they lingered over rum and iced lime juice water and listened to the native, playing and singing either their doleful wailing music, or that spanking, rhythmic kind, so typical of the island, beating the cross of their guitars. It was fun to watch the people, to sense, rather than be assured of, the exciting and sinister activities taking place about them.

Ylena's voice was lazily ecstatic. "I could sit in a country like this forever. This balmy comfort, nothing to worry about — it's marvelous."

Scott said, smiling, "You're developing the manana attitude."

"Manana attitude, nothing! I'm developing the day after manana attitude." Idly she looked about the dining room, which was quite large. On the walls were several water colors, of native market scenes, mtl, in almost glaring colors. "I like those water colors. Sometimes when I get the energy I must get close enough to see who did them."

"Better not," Scott recommended. "Probably came from some factory in Newark, N. J."

Scott's ridicule brought spontaneous laughter from the girl. Her lazy green eyes continued to rove over the cafe. Then suddenly they widened and stayed that way, set and horror stricken. Following her gaze, Scott turned and saw a slim, debonair man entering the cafe. With spidery grace, he seated himself at a table near the door, directly beneath one of the water colors. They had been discussing, and imperiously beckoned a waiter.

Scarcely moving his lips, Scott Hamilton asked in a quick, soft voice, "Who?"

Ylena managed to answer: "Clarkson."

THE GARDEN CLINIC

By VICTOR H. REIS,

QUESTION: Today I found my maiden hair fern covered with the same sticky scale which I have washed from by strawberry plants. It is almost impossible to clean the fern this way. Is there an oil spray I can apply to it that will remove the scale? Mrs. J. L. B., Oak Harbor.

ANSWER: The scale on house plants may be controlled by spraying them with the greenhouse form of a commercial oil spray.

QUESTION: What can I do to keep the sparrows away from my zinnias? They stand right in the blooms and pick the petals off one by one. Mrs. R. B. H., Dayton.

ANSWER: Although there are regular sparrow traps on the market which can be used successfully, I believe you will be able to make a temporary one by using half-inch hardware cloth or wire netting over a frame of 1 by 4 inch wooden strips. If you will place grain under neath this(prop it up with a stick and pull the stick out with a long piece of string when the sparrows are feeding underneath it, you should be able to catch most of them. It is a simple matter to reach under the screen, catch the sparrows, and break their necks.

QUESTION: The last two years I have had millions of ants in my flower garden, consequently have lost all of my zinnias with root aphids. I have tried tobacco, tar-tar emetic and several ant powders, all of which kill some ants but not enough to save the zinnias. Is there any way this fall or winter I can get to the source of this trouble? I have black and red ants, large and small ants. Mrs. J. M. Cincinnati.

ANSWER: The control of ants in the garden calls for persistent and constant effort with the regular application of poisons to kill the ants. I would suggest to reduce the population for next year that you start immediately and kill as many of them as possible. I have had excellent results with a mixture of one ounce paris green, one pound brown sugar and about half a cupful of some form of grease, sprinkling this in very small amounts in those sections of the garden where the ants are found. This seems to control all except the large black ones. Some people control these by pouring kerosene, gasoline, or similar materials down the holes. This usually kills any plants whose roots are in the hill. It is now possible to buy poison gas in small cans for this purpose. I believe you will find this efficient.

QUESTION: Will you please tell me how often to water a rock garden, also a flower garden? I am a firm believer in depending on the rain and only watering thoroughly about twice a season. However, my neighbor says I am

WALKS BY VANDY BRING THUMPING BY DODGERS, 4-2

BROOKLYN, Aug. 28—The Cincinnati Redlegs had a day of rest today after losing to the league-leading Brooklyn Dodgers, 4 to 2, and big, lumbering Ernie Lombardi, Redleg catcher, probably needed it.

The huge Lombardi amazed Dodger fans by stealing second after getting the first hit off Kirby Higbe in the fifth frame of last night's game. It was his first theft of the season and one of the few of his baseball career.

Walks, given by Johnny Vander Meer, was the difference between victory and defeat for the Dodgers. Johnny walked eight men although allowing only seven hits, the same number collected by his teammates.

The loss put the Reds 9 1/2 games behind the league-leaders and cut their chances of winning a third straight National League pennant considerably.

PERDON the Brooklynese, but then Dodgers is got the borough of choices in a termier. Here is Dolf Camilli, foist baseman, mobbed by autograph bugs at Ebbets Field, where the Dodgers and the St. Louis Cards (Boo!) fought a crucial series. And then Dodgers better win that flag. Yerse.

Dodger, Cardinal Race To Be Bitter To End

By Lawton Currier

NEW YORK, Aug. 28—With all the clubs in the American League mathematically eliminated from the pennant race, excepting only Chicago, Boston and Cleveland, the New York Yankees need only a half dozen wins, give or take a couple, to settle the issue even among that trio, but what about the National League? In a few words, that one either will be dragged out to a bitter late September end, or the Brooklyn Dodgers or St. Louis Cardinals will crack under this pressure and make it easy for the one that can stand the gaff.

With their battered lineup, the Cardinals came east to take on the Dodgers at Ebbets Field and emerged with a draw after four games, then smashed the Giants around last night by 8 to 5 to stay in 1 1/2 games behind the league-leaders. The Dodgers meantime beat the Cincinnati Reds, 4 to 2.

From the way things are shaping up on the basis of the Cards' invasion through enemy territory, the least you can say about them is that they are tough and don't figure to get any softer. They are not losing any ground away from home at a time when they can't muster a full complement of first string men.

They made 15 hits last evening off Hubbell and Brown and, although Ernie White couldn't win, they went on to victory behind Gumbert.

Kirby Higbe, who couldn't beat the Cards, scored his 18th win for the Dodgers over the Reds, and allowed only seven hits.

TOLEDO'S DRIVE FOR POSITION IN PLAYOFF IS HOT

By International News Service

The late season drive of the Toledo Mud Hens for a place in the American Association playoff neared a climax today as Fred Haney's outfit moved to within one game of a first division berth. The Hens, behind Harry Kimberlin's six-hit hurling, defeated Indianapolis, 3-1 last night while Minneapolis and Kansas City both took lacerations to a virtual tie for fourth position, a single game ahead of the Toledo nine.

While the Mud Hen battle to move into the first division held the center of the stage, the Louisville Colonels continued to give the Columbus Red Birds plenty of trouble in the latter's fight for the championship. The second-place Colonels scored a single run in the ninth inning last night to edge the Birds, 5-4 and cut the margin of the loop-leaders to 7 1/2 games.

Vedi Himsel, St. Paul Saint hurler, set the Kansas City Blues down with two hits to win, 3-0. Himsel allowed but five men to reach first, three of them on walks.

Milwaukee's vastly improved Brewers slipped over two runs in the tenth frame to defeat Minneapolis, 6-4 in a game sparked by wild scoring in the ninth inning. The Brewers pushed across three runs in their half of the ninth to go ahead but the hard-hitting Millers came back to tie it up with four markers in the bottom half of the ninth.

GRAND JURORS INDICT 15, IGNORE 11 CHARGES IN THREE-DAY PROBE

MANSLAUGHTER FINDING VOTED IN TOT'S DEATH

Portsmouth Autoist Faces Trial For June 13 Crash At Route 159-56

STATUTORY CASES AIRED

Youths Charged With Theft At Dunlap Home Named; Court Session Ends

Pickaway County's May term grand jury session came to a conclusion Wednesday at 4 p. m. when Judge Meeker Terwilliger heard the report of a three day investigation, complimented and, thanked the jurors for their services and discharged them. New jurors will take over next week, the September term of court starting Tuesday.

The jurors heard 71 witnesses, considered 34 cases, including one for manslaughter and several for sex offenses, returned 15 true bills, two secret indictments, ignored 11 complaints and passed five inquiries until the next term.

Chief among the indictments was that of Clyde Walter Cooper of Portsmouth, who is blamed for the traffic death of infant James Franklin Black, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Black, at the Route 159-56 intersection, southeast of Circleville last June 13. State Highway Patrolman J. G. Edie of Portsmouth, who filed the complaint against Cooper, said that the motorist failed to observe traffic signs at the intersection, running through a stop signal and causing the collision that resulted in the Black child's death.

Two Youths Named

Two Cedarville youths who entered the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Dunlap, just west of the Route 22 bridge over Deer Creek, and fled with more than $35 which they are charged with taking from Mrs. Dunlap's purse were indicted. They are Charles Leo Smalley and Charles Arthur Kearns.

The sheriff's office has received reports from Greene County officials that both youths have court records, Kearns at the time of his capture being a fugitive from the Boys' Industrial School, Lancaster. His first court appearance was in April, 1937, when he was taken into juvenile court as an incorrigible, and in February the next year he was returned on the same complaint. In November, 1940, he was placed in care of a sister who lived in Chicago after he was connected with a burglary in Cedarville, but he was arrested there for stealing money from the sister and taking clothing and money belonging to other persons who lived in the same apartment house.

He was sent to the industrial school at Lancaster November 28, 1940, but escaped the institution April 22, 1941.

Smalley, arrested with him, is on probation from Greene County Common Pleas court on a larceny charge.

The youths were caught after a posse of neighbors chased them through fields near the Dunlap home August 10.

Dowden Boy Named

Harold Dowden, Wayne Township, charged with setting fire to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Phillips, also in Wayne Township, in April, 1938, was indicted for arson. He pleaded guilty to the charge in a court hearing, and told authorities he believed that was the only way to make the Phillips family move. The property belonged to Dowden's father, Gilbert.

Three indictments were voted against men charged with statutory offenses all of which involved minor girls, in two cases relatives of the men named. Harry Brown and Joshua Linton, Circleville, were named in indictments, the former charged with an offense against a girl 11, his stepdaughter, and the latter being named for an offense against a daughter.

Charles Cain, Derby, former justice of the peace, was indicted on a statutory charge involving a girl 14.

Other indictments included: Donald Johnson, Circleville, operating an automobile when under the influence of alcohol, the charge being brought August 9; Carroll P. Chaffin, Perry Township, for failing to provide for a pregnant woman;

William Reynolds, Circleville, two counts of forgery in which he allegedly signed the name of his mother to a check for $4.75, this offense being dated July 24;

Roy Thompson, Circleville, for assault and battery July 27 of M. L. Rudy of Circleville after Rudy had brought him to Circleville from Ross County;

Marvin Rhoades, Jackson Township, for assault and battery of H. B. Swearingin, during an argument June 17;

Willard Stout, Harry Clifton, Robert McKinley, all Darbyville community youths, who were indicted for chicken thefts from William Norris last March 18.

Schumaker Case Delayed

Although the jury report listed five cases as passed, six were actually held over for action by the next jury. Prosecutor George Gerhardt said, since the manslaughter case brought against Dr. Edward Schumaker, 303 East Beck Street, Columbus, was not considered at this session because witnesses from West Virginia were ill and could not appear. The physician is charged with the traffic death July 4 of Mrs. Gladys Rhoades, Red House, W. Va., in a collision north of Circleville.

Other cases officially passed were charges of embezzlement against Marvin Sowers and Clydus Young of Circleville, both charges being brought by W. E. Wallace, baker; Merle Ankrom, York Street, charged with assault and battery of two aged Negroes, and Mahlon J. Immel of Yellowbud, charged with operating a motor vehicle when under the influence of alcohol, and Clarence Brungs, burglary and larceny.

Charges thrown out for lack of evidence were:

Willard E. Stonerok, bad check; Isabelle Beckman, bad check; Lewis McCollister, assault and battery; Everett Hall, larceny; Lloyd Wolfe, statutory charge; W. O. Near, assault and battery; Ted Corcoran, statutory charge; Richard Johnson, failure to have dog license; Ethel Tigner, assault and battery; Arthur Nungster, assault and battery; James Toles, assault and battery.

Grand Jurors Included Mary Miller, Salt Creek Township; Blanche Mavis, fourth ward; Asa Parks, Wayne Township; James George, Wayne Township; Ralph Strous, Salt Creek Township; Maude Mace, Perry Township; Fred Riggins, Pickaway Township; Harry Barthelmas, Deer Creek Township; Mrs. Lottie Downs, Muhlenberg Township; Joseph McKinley, Muhlenberg Township; Charles Nogle, Walnut Township; Lewis Barch, Madison Township; Harry Gatrell, second ward; Clarence Brown, New Holland, and W. M. Reid, fourth ward, foreman.

Coach Takes New Position In Huron County; Board To Grant Release

John Rawn of Canal Winchester, teacher and athletic coach at Walnut Township school for the last two years, has been employed as coach at Greenwich, O., in Huron County, and has asked the Walnut Township board for a contract release. George D. McDowell, county superintendent, said that from all indications the release would be granted since Mr. Rawn's new position will bring him a substantial increase in salary.

With school opening next week the Walnut board faces a problem of obtaining a successor. Mr. Rawn, a graduate of Capital University, Columbus, will coach basketball and baseball at Greenwich.

24 COUNTY MEN ELIGIBLE FOR ARMY RELEASE

Selective Service Office Lists Draftees Who Are 28 Or Over

THIRTEEN VOLUNTEERS

Officials Believe Some May Be Out Of Service By December 1

With Congress approving a measure deferring men of 28 years or over from service in the army, Pickaway County Selective Service board revealed Thursday that 24 men it has sent into service since conscription started are eligible for release from armed forces.

Just when releases will start has not been learned, and the Selective Service board has not received any definite information on the discharges of the 28 year olds. However, draft officials understand that some of Ohio's draftees will be home by December 1, with some possibly earlier. Men 28 will be discharged on application, it is understood.

The 24 draftees who are 28 or over were listed as follows: (The letter V after the name indicates that the draftee was a volunteer): Dudley W. Stout, (V), 28; Robert J. Walters, (V), 33; Kenneth M. May, (V), 35; Malcolm Johnson, (V), 30; Nelson F. Lape, (V), 28; Alfred L. Lape, (V), 31; Robert H. Trimble, (V), 28; Fred A. Smith, (V), 28; Clarence L. Cunningham, (V), 33;

Kenneth E. Rowland, (V), 35; Charles Z. Coleman, (V), 29; Maurice E. McCollister, (V), 28; Everett Alban, (V), 28; Russell Crosby, 30; Samuel L. Fetherolf, 28; Frank Gardner (Jake) Moore, 32; George D. Courtright, 32; Wilbur E. Adkins, 28; Edgar Ross Clark, 28; Max Harlan Yoakum, 28; Bernard E. Gregory, 34; Darwin L. Rossiter, 34; Lloyd J. Fisher, 35; Oliver L. Forsythe, 28.

Pickaway County to date has sent 135 men into armed service through draft channels. This does not include the National Guardsmen who have been in service since last October.

RAF Strikes Mannheim; U. S. Volunteer Is Hero

LONDON, Aug. 28 — British planes once more bombed targets in western Germany last night and early today, dropping tons of explosives on the industrial city of Mannheim and other points.

Late last night bombers also attacked invasion bases along the Nazi-held French coast. Gun flashes were seen at Dunkirk and Calais and explosions were heard by observers on the English coast.

Meanwhile William Robert Dunn of Houston, Tex., a pilot in one of the two R.A.F. American Eagle squadrons, was high-scoring among the American volunteer airmen after shooting down two German Messerschmitt fighters yesterday, bringing his total "bag" to five.

After his two successes yesterday Dunn was wounded in the foot during a battle with a third Messerschmitt but managed nevertheless to bring his plane back across the channel to his home base. Today he is recovering in a hospital.

In addition to the five German planes Dunn has brought down in aerial combat, he previously had shot down two German bombers with a Lewis gun while a member of a Canadian infantry unit in southeast England last year.

DAMAGE OF MORE THAN $1,500 FOLLOWS BLAZE

COLUMBUS, Aug. 28—Damage caused by a two-alarm fire which destroyed a melting house and a portion of the foundry roof of the Columbus Brass Manufacturing Co., was estimated today at between $1,500 and $2,000. Eleven pieces of fire-fighting equipment were used to prevent the flames spreading to portions of the plant housing valuable patterns and stock. The company is engaged in filling national defense orders. Work in the foundry, officials said, will be suspended for three or four days.

Anglo-Russ Blitz Forces Iran to Ask Peace

CONFLICT IN OIL DISTRICT ENDED IN THREE DAYS

Teheran Wireless Reports New Cabinet Appealing For War's Cessation

NAZIS ANNOUNCE GAINS

Roosevelt 'Fairy Tale' Assailed By Berlin Spokesmen

NEW YORK, Aug. 28—NBC short-wave monitors today heard the London radio broadcasting that "all fighting in Iran has ceased." Russo-British occupation of the country is continuing, the broadcast said, but the advance has become a peaceful occupation.

By International News Service

After three days of fighting, Iran today was reported to have given up all attempts to resist Anglo-Russian forces moving deeper into the ancient oil-rich land.

As Iran apparently gave in, history's time-table of this war was given another important date—Iran had capitulated more quickly than any nation but Denmark. It was the nearest thing to a British blitz victory in this war.

Two London dispatches—one circulated by Reuters news agency, the other by the official British radio—said the Tehran wireless today announced that a new cabinet had been formed in Iran and that the new prime minister had given orders for cessation of resistance.

Berlin expressed no surprise. Authoritative German quarters said further Iranian resistance was useless.

"Whether the new situation will compel severance of German-Iranian relations remains to be seen," these German quarters said. The Russo-German war roared (Continued on Page Four)

LINDBERGH GIVEN RIGHT TO USE BALL PARK STAND

OKLAHOMA CITY, Aug. 28—Preparations were being made today to accommodate a crowd of 25,000 persons tomorrow night at the "sandlot" rally of the Oklahoma City chapter of the America First Committee, at which Charles A. Lindbergh and U. S. Senator Burton K. Wheeler (D) of Montana will be the principal speakers.

Announcement that the meeting would be held in what is known as the sandlot ball park just outside the city limits was made by Herbert K. Hyde, local America First chairman, after the committee was refused use of the Municipal Auditorium by the city council.

The ball park has seats for 10,000 persons, but Hyde said temporary seats would be installed for 25,000.

10,000 CIO MEN LEAVE FACTORY

Wildcat Strike Ties Up Operations At Great Lakes Plant

DETROIT, Aug. 28—Ten thousand men were thrown out of work today when what was termed by the management as a "wildcat strike" forced the Great Lakes Steel Corporation in suburban Ecorse to shut down despite pleas by a union leader that the men remain on their jobs.

Today's walkout was another in a series which have occurred frequently since July 15 when the company signed a contract with the Steel Workers' Organizing Committee (CIO).

According to Federal Labor Conciliator James F. Dewey these work stoppages have put the company behind 50,000 tons in its production of steel for National Defense. It was Dewey who set the figure of 10,000 men made idle.

The strike came at a time when union leaders were negotiating wage adjustments.

NEW CALIFORNIA, HAWAII RECORD SET BY PLANES

HONOLULU, Aug. 28—A new California-to-Hawaii commercial plane speed record of 13 hours, 55 minutes was chalked up today for three Douglas DC-3 transports. The 24-passenger planes were ferried the 2,400-mile distance from Oakland, Cal. by Douglas pilots for delivery to an airline plying between Honolulu and Hilo. Their time was an hour and three minutes better than the old record, set by Pan-American Airways Pilot Steve Bancroft in the Honolulu clipper last July 2.

SALE OF RESIDENCE FOR 79-CENT DEBT STUDIED

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 28—Public sale of a widow's small home for $118 to satisfy a 79-cent delinquent tax bill was under investigation today by city officials.

The 79 cents was a tax balance against the former owner, a war veteran. Mrs. Natalie Myer said she was unaware of the unpaid tax bill when she bought the property in 1936. Yesterday she received a notice informing her that she no longer was the legal owner.

"It doesn't require a phenomenon from a standpoint of intelligence on the part of the public official to know that something was wrong when a home was sold for $118 to satisfy a 79-cent tax bill," commented Supervisor Oscar Hauge.

Young Man, Born in County, Hunting Sisters, Brother

A young fellow who gives his name as William Frederick Heise and who claims Jackson Township as his birthplace on December 18, 1911, is trying to find his relatives, whom he has not seen since he was a baby.

Heise appeared at the office of Sheriff Charles Radcliff, Thursday, seeking aid. He had been in probate court, seeking a birth certificate, but no record of his birth was available.

County Home records revealed that his parents were Milton and Clara Groce Heise. He was taken to the Pickaway County Home in infancy, shortly after his mother died in giving him birth. At the age of two years he was adopted by Mr. and Mrs. Jack Mason of Jamaica, L. I., his foster father being projectionist for the movie, "Birth of a Nation" when it was shown in Circleville.

He enjoyed life with the Masons, but his foster father died 14 years ago and his foster mother 18 months ago in Atlantic City. He has been working at odd jobs in Staten Island since his foster mother's death, but has been unable to find a steady job because he has no birth certificate.

He had a brother, Edward Solomon Heise, and two sisters, Lily May and Myrtle Heise, and he is trying to locate them. Any persons having information which may aid the young man are urged to contact Sheriff Radcliff.

TEST OF DRAFT LAW WINS YOUTH HIS FORMER JOB

NEW YORK, Aug. 28—In the first case of its kind in the country, Sylvester Carra, Brooklyn draftee who had completed his "trick" in the Army, today was given back his old civilian job through intervention by the federal government.

Completion of successful negotiations between the government and the shoe firm for which Carra worked was announced by U. S. Attorney Harold M. Kennedy.

Carra was inducted on May 1 and was honorably discharged on June 27 due to the death of his father. When he re-applied for his job as assistant foreman for Grossman Shoes, Inc., a job he had held for three years, he was told it had been eliminated. Carra reported the incident to his local draft board and the board informed Kennedy, who subpoenaed Morgan Grossman, company president.

FACTORIES MUST ACCEPT ORDERS TO AID DEFENSE

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28—The nation's 2,000,000 factories and stores were placed under stringent government regulation to fill defense and lease-lend orders ahead of all other contracts today as the United States was shifted from peacetime to wartime economy.

In the most sweeping decree since the defense program was started more than a year ago, OPM Priorities Director E. R. Stettinius Jr., with the full approval of President Roosevelt and Defense Chiefs William S. Knudsen and Sidney Hillman, issued the regulation setting what he said is a "new basic" policy.

Under it, factories and all other business firms must accept defense orders offered them "even if acceptance of these orders will prevent, or delay, deliveries of non-defense orders. It means, it was explained, that business as usual is out the window and that the nation's entire productive capacity is going to be geared to turn out war materials for the U. S., Great Britain, China and Russia.

ESTONIAN ISLE REPULSES NAZI CHUTE ATTACK

STOCKHOLM, Aug. 28—An unsuccessful German attempt to seize the Estonian island of Oesel with a parachute army was reported in a Soviet broadcast heard in Stockholm today. Most of the parachutists were captured, it was said.

Oesel and the island of Nargoe were bombed by German artillery, it was said. While the Russian forts were undamaged, many farms were ploughed up by shells.

Nargoe has a large Swedish population.

Routes 159-56 And 104-56 Cited As Dangerous

Pickaway County grand jury, which ended its three day session Wednesday afternoon, took cognizance of dangers lurking at two nearby road intersections when it filed a recommendation, which will be submitted to the county commissioners, that flasher signals be placed at Routes 159 and 56, the dangerous Leistville crossing, and Routes 104 and 56, west of Circleville.

The recommendation was voted unanimously by the grand jury, it reported to Judge Meeker Terwilliger.

The Leistville crossing, which is southeast of Circleville on the Laurelville road, has been the scene of numerous fatal accidents.

REPORT ON PAGE 10

The complete report of the grand jury investigation appears on Page 10.

most recent of which was the death of James Franklin Black, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Black. The jury indicted Clyde W. Cooper of Portsmouth, Wednesday, for causing the death of the Black child, when he failed to observe stop signs along Route 159.

The jurors expressed belief that flasher signals would do much to prevent additional accidents at the intersection.

They pointed out the seriousness of the Route 104 and 56 crossings, although this intersection has not taken the heavy toll of life that the 159-56 crossing has taken.

Installation of a flasher at Route 22 and 104 has materially decreased the number of accidents there.

It is believed in court circles that the proper course for the recommendation to take would be to the county commissioners and then to the state highway department.

The jurors also instructed the commissioners to purchase four Bibles for use in the county jail, and a number of song and hymn books to be used there also. Religious services are conducted every Sunday afternoon, but Bibles and song books are needed.

CAMP MEETING'S SIZE OUTLINED FOR ROTARIANS

Rotarians Thursday noon heard representatives of the Church of Christ in Christian Union outline the tremendous effort put into establishing and maintaining the Mount of Praise camp meeting ground where the annual two weeks' session of the Ohio church body is in session.

Speakers included the Rev. O. L. Ferguson, of Circleville, the Rev. Everett Keaton, of Chillicothe, the Rev. E. A. Sager, of Columbus, and the Rev. George Smith, of Circleville.

Information was given on establishment of the camp 23 years ago and how it has grown to the present time when the tabernacle provides seats for 3,000 persons, how beds are provided for a thousand or more persons and how the restaurant, operated by the church, feeds more than 7,500 persons during the course of the meetings.

The speakers issued an attendance invitation to all Rotarians and all citizens of the county, declaring that each session of day or evening provides an interesting and helpful program.

Lieut. Edwards was attached to the 46th Field Artillery at Fort Custer, Mich., and was riding in a caravan of 2,000 army vehicles enroute from Fort Custer to Brooklyn, N. Y.

PEDESTRIAN, 81, HURT SERIOUSLY BY HEAVY TRUCK

Frank Turner Has Broken Knee, Ankle, Received Wednesday Evening

SHOCK ALSO SUFFERED

Walnut Street Man Becomes Confused, Walks Backward Into Gasoline Hauler

Struck when he was walking in the middle of Route 23, 100 yards north of the Circleville corporation limit, Frank Turner, 81, of Walnut Street, was painfully hurt at 10 p. m. Wednesday. Examination in Berger Hospital disclosed that he was suffering from fractures of the right ankle and right knee and that internal injuries were possible.

Mr. Turner's condition was reported to be "fair," shock adding to the seriousness of his injury.

The aged man was struck by a gasoline truck driven by Homer Hester, 34, of 685 South Terrace Street, Columbus, who drives for the Willett Co., 700 South Desplains Street, Chicago. The company is under contract to haul Shell Oil Company products.

Hester told Sheriff Charles Radcliff that he saw the man walking north in the middle of the road, and that his speed of about 25 miles an hour permitted him to slow down.

"As I neared the pedestrian," Hester told the sheriff, "he apparently became confused and fell backward several steps, the truck hitting him."

The trucker applied air brakes to his vehicle, stopping it immediately. The truck did not pass over Mr. Turner's body.

The Walnut Street resident was taken to Berger Hospital by Arthur Rinehart and his son, Raymond, Harrison Township, who were passing the scene.

Harold, Arthur and Marvin Marshall of near Stoutsville had also seen Mr. Turner in the street, they told the sheriff, and had narrowly missed him as their car passed.

The youths stopped their car and were starting into the road to lead the man to safety when the truck came along.

Hester told Sheriff Radcliff who, with Deputy Bryan Custer, investigated the accident, that he had just received a two-year medal from his company for safe driving, that in that period he had not had a single accident.

Accident Feared

Mrs. Charles Winner, North Court Street, a daughter of Mr. Turner, told the sheriff that she had feared for some time that her father might be struck by an automobile. Several times he has been found wandering in the street.

Investigating officers believed that Mr. Turner might have been walking through fields prior to the accident, since his clothing was wet.

MYSTERY BLAZE IN MAGNESIUM PLANT STUDIED

SAN JOSE, Cal., Aug. 28—Fire of mysterious origin broke out today in the Todd-California Company's new $12,000,000 magnesium plant, injuring five men, three of them seriously.

Immediately after the blaze was extinguished, federal agents and company officials sought the cause of the fire, indicating that sabotage might have been suspected.

Ralph Knight, chief engineer of the plant, said the fire occurred during experiments unrelated to actual plant production. The flames, Knight said, were extinguished quickly with magnesium oxide powder, confining damage to a minimum.

PROPAGANDISTS SENT TO DEATH ON GUILLOTINE

Attack On Pierre Laval Signal For Fast Move On Terrorists

PRISON TERMS ORDERED

Two Bullets Hit Former Premier; Three Others Wounded By Youth

BERLIN, Aug. 28—Paul Collette, self-confessed attempted assassin of Pierre Laval, today admitted he is a follower of Gen. Charles De Gaulle, according to the Paris paper Midi, the official German news agency DNB reported from Paris today. As a result, it was said, police began a wholesale search for De Gaulist hideouts as well as communist nests.

VICHY, Aug. 28—Moving swiftly to end a wave of alleged Communist terrorism culminating in the attempted assassination of Pierre Laval, German authorities in Paris today guillotined three convicted Communist propagandists, according to word received in Vichy.

The gleaming blade fell at the famous old Sante Prison, where for decades past political prisoners have been incarcerated.

The victims apparently were Abraham Trzebruch, a Russian Jew, Emil Jean Bastard and Andre Briquet, who had been condemned to death by a special tribunal for disseminating Communist propaganda.

As the men met their death in the midst of a sweeping roundup of all dissident elements in Paris, authorities in unoccupied France began to "crack down."

Two unidentified British subjects were sentenced to 20 years at hard labor and a French citizen to 10 years for spreading "Free French" propaganda on behalf of Gen. Charles De Gaulle. The sentences were handed down at Marseilles.

Details reached Vichy today of the rapid-fire judgment meted out by the Paris tribunal, which met for the first time yesterday under the presidency of M. Bonon.

The proceedings were strictly secret, the public being barred, and only half a dozen policemen were needed to keep the curious on their way.

Sentences Sudden

The first prisoner summoned was Leon Redondeau, 53, described as a taxpayer of the Paris suburb of Malakoff. He was charged with active propaganda and resisting officers when arrested last July. Seven years at hard labor.

Then came Pierre Lamant. No details of his offenses were made (Continued on Page Four)

F. D. R. CONFERS WITH NOMURA; TOPIC UNKNOWN

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28—In proceedings that have no parallel in Nipponese-American relations in recent years, the Japanese ambassador, Kichisaburo Nomura, today delivered a personal message from the prime minister of Japan to President Roosevelt.

Nature of the message was not disclosed.

Following a 40-minute conference with the President and Secretary of State Cordell Hull at the White House, the Japanese ambassador said, in response to questions, that he was not informed of any plans by Japan to stop by force the shipment of American supplies to Russia via Vladivostok.

Although the Japanese envoy declined to divulge the nature of the message from the prime minister—Prince Koyne—he indicated that it did not involve any possible rupture of relations between the United States and Japan.

Asked whether he expected to return to Tokyo in the near future, Admiral Nomura said: "You mean that I may be getting my passport soon? I certainly hope not."

A new Wednesday attendance record was set yesterday with a total of 60,433 paid admissions, a gain of 9,643 over last year.

Dancer Sues Producer For Faked Marriage

NEW YORK, Aug. 28—Charging that she had been the victim of a fake marriage ceremony, Ruth Williamson Palmer, red-haired musical comedy dancer, today filed a $50,000 suit against Frank L. Teller, Broadway producer and member of a wealthy Philadelphia family.

The dancer, who said she was the widow of George Palmer, a member of the wealthy Palmer family of Chicago, said she went through what she thought was a marriage ceremony with Teller on March 11, 1940, in Reno, Nev., after she had accepted his proposal.

"He got a license and a wedding ring, took me to the county courthouse, and introduced me to the judge, who, he said, was a friend of his," she explained. "The man had a black robe on, so I took for granted he was really a judge."

She said she received a signed

STARS SAY—

For Thursday, August 28

AN EVENTFUL and surprising day is presaged by the interesting lunar and mutual configurations. An element of the curious, subtle, and unfathomable seems at the root of distinctly thrilling, intriguing and successful adventures, in which public issues or recognition is at stake. These may be major projects in which rich and powerful bodies or personages figure both openly and directly as well in a rather concealed or silent mode of co-operation. Constructive ideas and objectives should be advanced by hidden forces or faculties, shrewdly utilized.

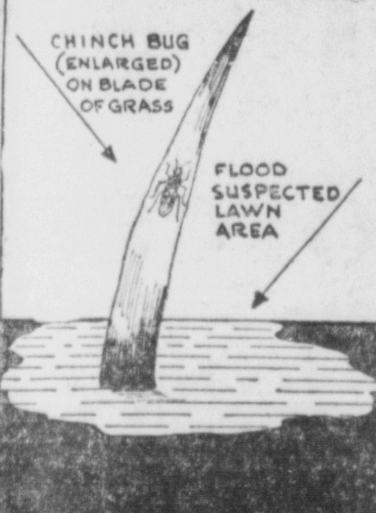

Those whose birthday it is may be on the threshold of a year in which unknown, subtle or singular forces and faculties may be cunningly utilized to advance projects of major importance to the public or influential bodies of wealth and power. Intrigue, cleverly organized strategy, inspired or intuition factors figure with determination and effect. Unusual ideas and ideals practically applied, as well as logic and sound methods, should prove winners, creating progress and pleasure.

A child born on this day may have exceptional talents, with shrewd insight as well as idealistic impulses, all constructively allied to make an intriguing, progressive and pleasant life.

Today's Garden-Graph

Lawns frequently show chinch bug injury in July and again in September. This is when the adults of each generation have reached maturity. Both the young and adults puncture the grass stem and suck the juices. The grass blades become red-stained and when the infestation is heavy, large areas of the lawn turn brown.

Chinch bug injury to lawns

As illustrated in the Garden-Graph, the chinch bug is a tiny insect from one-sixth to one-eighth-inch long having a black body and white wings with black markings. The young are reddish. One way to make certain of their presence is to flood the grass area. If they are present, they will climb up the grass blades.

To control these pests, spray the infested area with nicotine-sulphate solution—one to eight hundred, plus soap—or use a proprietary dust containing rotenone and sulphur.

Feeding of the lawn and ample waterings help to increase the vigor of the grasses and thus enable the grass to outgrow the damage caused by the chinch bugs.

Vines which have made extra long growths may be headed back somewhat but pruning from now on till winter should be confined to repairing damages and removing sucker growths from stocks which have been top-grafted.

Preparation should be made for such lawn seeding or reseeding as it is to be done this fall so that it can be sown early next month. Bare spots or patches of perennial weeds should be dug up and the area refilled with good topsoil.

The general summer pruning of shrubbery should have stopped before now, but extra long growths on both vines and shrubs may be headed back at any kind.

plaid, as well as logic and sound methods, should prove winners, creating progress and pleasure.

A child born on this day may have exceptional talents, with shrewd insight as well as idealistic impulses, all constructively allied to make an intriguing, progressive and pleasant life.

CITY MUST END ITS SUPPORT AT MEMORIAL HALL

Council President Informs Commissioners All Aid Will Be Stopped

MONEY PROBLEM CRUCIAL

Aldermen Participate In Informal Discussion Of Problem

John C. Goeller, president of Circleville council, told councilmen Wednesday evening that he had informed the county commissioners that because of a depleted treasury that Circleville would be unable to provide a janitor, coal, light or gas for Memorial Hall after September 1.

He said "the commissioners are considering the emergency."

Council was called into special session Wednesday evening, but because of absence of three councilmen the meeting was not conducted. Instead, the officials sat in council chamber for about an hour discussing the financial situation, and taking no definite steps concerning its alleviation.

Mr. Goeller is in favor of cutting the police department to three men, he told his colleagues, but encountered stern opposition especially from Councilman J. D. Mason who insisted that the police department is the one unit in city government which brings money into the general fund.

Mayor Cady also figured in the discussion relating the importance of police department fines and costs in operating the city. He compared fines collected during his present term and in 1936 when Mr. Goeller was mayor.

The next regular session of council will be Wednesday, September 3.

ASHVILLE

By S. D. Fridley
Ashville, Phone 79

Two of the WAR spiders that we told you about the other day, have been, by some over charged investigation, destroyed along with their work, but one yet remains, so John Wilkins told yesterday evening, and is faithfully working away building the ground or net work for whatever lettering it may have in mind to print. Many of us are interested in the work of this bug, insect or what you may choose to name it. We'll keep in touch, through Mr. Wilkins, with the work it is doing and keep you posted about its performance.

Ashville—
Our Walter Gregg, son of Herb and Mrs. Gregg, has accepted one of several places offered him as a teacher in high school as athletic coach and mathematics. He will begin work next week at New Athens, Harrison County. He has been there this week, looked things over, secured boarding quarters and will begin teaching on his own account next week. He is a local high school product along with State University. The county high school basketballers of a few years back will remember Walter as having the stuff it takes to be a winner in ball games. Walter's brother Jay is up at Findlay now pitching winning ball for that team.

Ashville—
Moving talk has been changed to action, Mrs. Blanch Baker removing from her Long Street home to what is known as the Mrs. Briggs property near the U. B. Church. Mrs. Dora Baum will occupy today, the place made vacant by Mrs. Baker and Ed Irwin and family to their own home on East Main Street.

And Claude Kraft and family are removing here from Circleville occupying the remodeled Mrs. Schiff dwelling on East Street. Mr. Kraft is cashier at the Ashville Bank. Profs. Brobst and Carter, music and athletic teachers, are getting set in their living quarters here within the next couple of days, so we were told yesterday.

Ashville—
George Brinlinger of Cleveland is here visiting at the home of his grandparents, Hoadly and Mrs. Brinlinger. . . Oda Helvering, who received in a fall some weeks ago a broken leg and is being cared for at the home of Mrs. Bowers, is now able to set up.

WEST VIRGINIA SOPRANO

Mary Lou Creighton, gifted young Charleston soprano, will appear as the "Chance of a Lifetime" soloist on the "Summertime Concert" over WLW at 10 p. m. Sunday, August 31. Miss Creighton will be heard in the "O Patria Mia" aria from Giuseppe Verdi's celebrated opera "Aida." William Stoess will conduct the orchestra, providing the soprano's accompaniments as well as a group of selections featuring the various instruments of the ensemble.

Born in Charleston, W. Va., Miss Creighton was encouraged to devote herself to music because of the unusual quality of her voice. She enrolled at the Cincinnati Conservatory of Music, where she studied voice under John Hoffman, piano with Grace Woodruff, and organ with Dr. Carl H. Grimm. At the time of graduation, the gifted musician was awarded the Eteika Evans prize in music history.

NEW CUGAT RHUMBA

Got a good name for an off-tempo rumba? Xavier Cugat plans to introduce a dance brought back from Cuba by Miguel Valdez, his Afro-Cuban vocal star. Miguelito discovered Cuban natives doing the unique rumba but as far as he could learn they have no name for it.

Cugat hopes to introduce the stepping style at New York's Harvest Moon Ball but in the meantime the problem is what to call it. If you have any good names up your sleeve, you might send the maestro a postcard, care NBC, New York.

SLOAN INTO MOVIES

Everett Sloane actor in "Mr. District Attorney," expects to bow out of that series for a while soon. Sloane is one of the radio personalities who is being summoned to the west coast by Orson Welles for picture work. He was in "Citizen Kane" along with Agnes Moorehead and Ray Collins, also of radio.

LEVANT STILL ON AIR

Although Oscar Levant has been booked for a full tour of 31 concerts his dates are being arranged to allow him time off for appearances on the "Information Please" stanzas. His concerts will combine talks with piano wizardry.

RADIO BRIEFS

Kay Kyser last week played to the biggest crowd in the history of his "College of Musical Knowledge" radio series when he aired his program from Lockheed Aircraft Corp. before almost 7,000 employees. It was the first radio show presented in a vital defense industry and necessitated special oaks from Washington for everyone connected with the program before they could get into the plant.

Billy Mills will be one of the busiest music directors in radio this winter, with three coast-to-coast programs on the air. He'll baton "Fibber McGee," "Hap Hazard," and the new show starring Hal Peary titled, "The Great Gildersleeve."

Hedda Hopper returns to her "Hedda Hopper's Hollywood" on Wednesday, September 3, after three weeks of roughing it in the Canadian Rockies. She'll resume her dramatizations of movie stars' lives, along with her regular Hollywood gossip.

For the third straight week Meredith Willson's radio theme tune, "You and I," has topped all songs in the country in sheet music sales and now lands the runner-up position in network airings. More than 150,000 sheet music copies and 200,000 records have been sold.

HAPPY RELIEF FROM PAINFUL BACKACHE

Many of those gnawing, nagging, painful backaches people blame on colds or strains are often caused by tired kidneys—and may be relieved when treated in the right way. The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking excess acids and poisonous waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day. If the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters don't work well, poisonous waste matter stays in the blood. These poisons may start nagging backaches, rheumatic pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder. Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 60 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

AIRCRAFT UNION VICTOR IN CURTISS-WRIGHT VOTE

COLUMBUS, Aug. 28—Rumors that the Aircraft Independent Vertical Labor Union has gained victory in its drive for certification as the sole bargaining agent for 2,500 employees of the Curtiss-Wright airplane plant circulated freely today. Labor Conciliator Hugh D. Friel, who has been standing by a general walkout, said he had been given to understand that the National Labor Relations Board has dismissed formal charges against Curtiss-Wright alleging that Aircraft is a "company-sponsored" union.

Philip G. Phillips, regional NLRB director at Cincinnati, refused official comment. He did say, however, that the NLRB's report had been mailed to representatives of the United Auto and Aircraft Workers (CIO) which filed the charge. Aircraft claims a more than 1700 members in the Curtiss-Wright plant, an employee majority of 85 percent.

HEALTH DIET FOR CADETS

SAN ANTONIO, Tex.—It's just too bad for any would-be U. S. Army flier who doesn't happen to like milk or eggs, for example. Everyone of the aviation cadets at Kelly Field is required to eat the following every day: a quart of sweet milk; two eggs; six pats of butter; one-and-a-half ounces of cheese; and either a green or yellow vegetable. These foods are all rich in Vitamin A, which it has been found prevents night blindness.

Commercially speaking, any small fish of the herring family is a sardine. The true sardine is also called the pilchard.

NEW TAX LEVIES BEING STUDIED BY COMMITTEE

Boost in Excess Profits, Increase in Surtax Suggested

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28.—New tax levies to raise $400,000,000 annually and increase the proposed new tax bill to $1,000,000,000, were recommended to the Senate Finance Committee in secret session today by a special sub-committee.

The proposed additional taxes, it was understood, included an increase from 6 to 7 percent in the surtax on corporate income above $25,000 a year, and from special excise taxes.

The sub-committee, composed of Sens. Brown (D) Mich., and Danaher (R) Conn., worked out the suggested tax increase program with Assistant Secretary of the Treasury Sullivan and representatives of the joint congressional tax committee.

Acceptance by the finance committee, however, was doubtful despite the assertion of some members that increasing defense expenditures necessitates an increase in the tax bill beyond the original goal $3,500,000,000 annually.

ARTIST'S SON FOLLOWING DAD, TO HIS AMAZEMENT

CHICAGO, Aug. 28.—Edgar Miller, Chicago artist, was sure today that his one-year-old son, Norman, has begun exceptionally early in life to follow in his father's footsteps.

Miller was sure of it, but not happy about it. Norman revealed his artistic bent by spreading pretty red, green and black paint all over a mural—44 feet by five feet—which Miller had just completed for a loop store, after weeks of work.

The youngster smeared the painting when Miller was taking a nap, taking special delight, Papa Miller said, in the effects of red, green and black paints.

"Norman just stood there, his eyes shining, when I found him," Miller related. "I just gulped and led him away."

Miller said he believed the damage could be repaired, but he vowed:

"After this, my paints will be kept on a high shelf."

The young would-be assassin was held subject to court martial and death before a firing squad.

The incident climaxed a series of disorders for which both Vichy authorities and German officials in occupied France had prescribed drastic penalties, including death.

A few hours after the shooting the new summary court martial to "combat Communist and Anarchist activities" opened its first session in Paris with large forces of police mobilized around the court house to maintain order.

"No doubt can prevail," Moniteur added, "as to the danger of which all French statesmen are exposed if they desire reconstruction of their country within the orbit of the new Europe."

More Nazi Claims

Germany today claimed new victories over the Russians. A Berlin announcement claimed 35 Red air force planes were shot down, two Soviet auxiliary cruisers were damaged and heavy losses inflicted on Red army troops.

In the midst of these tidings of war and thunder, an almost piquant report of a great peace offensive came from Bangkok today. In far-away Thailand, official quarters said the government would appeal to all belligerents soon for an immediate peace—a peace based on the philosophy of Buddhism of abhorrence of war.

In addition to new victory claims, Germany had other words to say today about the international situation. The German foreign office Diplomatic Correspondence used the Iran invasion as a springboard for another attack on President Roosevelt.

It claimed developments in Iran have "definitely ended the fairy tale of Roosevelt as a protector of innocent victims of aggression."

Moscow announced a new victory over the 132nd German division on the west bank of the Dnieper River and said more than 6,000 Nazi soldiers were killed.

Berlin military authorities said the German forces have hammered out new operating bases north and south of Smolensk at the center of the front and that the Germans are expected to launch a new drive to the east in wedge formation.

SOLDIERS HELP NEGRO FAMILY AS HOUSE BURNS

Nelson Lape Of Circleville One Of Camp Shelby's Latest Heroes

YOUNGSTER IS REMOVED

Cry For Aid Brings Quick Aid From Members Of Medical Outfit

Editor's Note: The following interesting story was received Thursday by The Daily Herald from Camp Shelby, Miss., home base of Ohio's 37 Division now on maneuvers in Louisiana. It mentions a Circleville youth.

With The 37th Infantry Division in Southwestern Louisiana, Aug. 28.

Little acts of heroism go almost unnoticed because our men in uniform perform such deeds of valor in line of duty as part of a day's work.

Two such episodes have been written by Ohioans of the 37th Infantry Division in recent days.

One such performance by soldiers occurred near the 37th Division rear echelon at Gillis, La. In this particular case enlisted men, led by Lieut. William A. Chainski, New York, extinguished a fire that threatened to destroy the little home of a colored family.

Lieut. Chainski, officer in charge of the rear echelon medical detachment, heard cries of "Help!" as he wandered not far from his bivouac.

Calling to Private First Class Nelson Lape, Circleville, O., also of the medical detachment, Lieut. Chainski made a dash for the vicinity from which the sound emanated, about 400 yards away.

Arriving, he found a small blaze licking away at the roof-top of a small wooden house. The colored mother was so alarmed to the extent that she was unable to do anything for herself.

Lape Removes Child

She had carried two small children from the house. A third still sat inside near the doorway, Lieut. Chainski directed Lape to remove the child from the house.

By this time four members of the Military Police Company, 37th Division, came bounding on the scene, having been attracted by the cry for aid. They had been fishing in a nearby stream. The Military Police were Corp. Tony LaBranch, Cleveland; Arlen Dorsey, Akron; William Campbell, Columbus, and Ray Cleary, Cleveland.

An unidentified soldier from another regiment also arrived on the scene.

A water bucket was obtained at a well 50 feet from the house, and Lieut. Chainski formed a bucket brigade.

A rickety old ladder was placed against the side of the house and Lieut. Chainski climbed up to the roof. Water was rushed to him via the bucket brigade and the work was done speedily because the bucket had a leak in it.

The small blaze soon was put under control but not before quick thinking on the part of Private Cleary had saved another soldier from perhaps serious injury.

Another Falls

The unidentified soldier, whose part in the bucket brigade placed him at the top of the ladder, fell backward to earth when a rung gave way. Private Cleary, standing a few feet away, rushed under the ladder and broke the fall by partially catching his fellow soldier.

When the fire was finally put out, Lieut. Chainski examined the children to see that they were all right. Satisfied that they were, Lieut. Chainski told them it was safe to go back inside.

The colored mother could hardly speak her appreciation for what the soldiers had done.

The other episode was scenes near the 147th Infantry bivouac area when Private Joe Schrand, Cincinnati rescued Corporal Jule Mayer, Cincinnati, from possible drowning.

It happened in the Sabine River where the boys were swimming. Corporal Mayer overestimated his endurance and sank under the water in midstream. Private Schrand went to the rescue and pulled his fellow townsman ashore.

In St. John's church at Hampton, built in 1727, can be found the oldest silver communion service in use in America. It bears date of 1617.

Political intimates launched a boom for him at a luncheon at French Lick attended by GOP bigwigs from Indiana, Illinois and Kentucky. In political circles the affair is viewed as savoring strongly of a "stop Willie" movement. . . . Senator "Curly" Brooks, militant Illinois isolationist, will have tough opposition for the GOP nomination next spring. Former Representative Ralph E. Church is planning to oppose Brooks squarely on his isolationist record.

BRASSHAT DIDOES

Bloody strife rages the length and breadth of Europe. A new phase of the war is about to burst in Iran. The Far East is a powder keg. But Navy brasshats are all atwitter over rival publicity schemes.

The undercover fracas is as hilarious as anything seen on a Gilbert and Sullivan stage.

It began several months ago when Admiral W. H. P. Blandy, chief of the Bureau of Ordnance, conceived the idea of boosting morale in factories filling Navy orders by giving public recognition for especially good work. So Admiral Blandy asked James Selva, former ace Washington newsmen to work out a plan.

Selva's recommendation was simple, inexpensive and apt. He proposed that the Navy's E (for "excellent") now awarded banners to ships with the highest efficiency rating should also be applied to factories, and that factory workers would receive small "E" buttons.

Admiral Blandy liked the plan and adopted it for his Bureau. Whereupon Admiral Samuel M. Robinson, chief of the Bureau of Ships, decided that shipyards too should be given awards. But instead of adopting the E plan, he asked Albert Lasker, big-gun advertising executive, to devise a new award.

Lasker delegated the job to his son, Edward, who after lengthy cogitation, finally emerged with one of the most elaborate hoopla ever conceived by an advertising agency to hypnotize a million dollar client.

The presentation covered 30 pages and called for cash prizes, awards of wrist watches, picking the best plant of the week, month, six months, and so on. The plan had everything in it but a dog show.

Young Lasker's creation immediately raised a furore in Navy press circles, where it was pointed out that the cost would run into millions, and would require a staff of several hundreds to operate it. Also dishing out cash and other valuable prizes to highly-paid factory workers would bring a storm of protests from the families of selectees now serving their country for $21 a month.

But Admiral Robinson is sticking by the Lasker scheme, and the gentlemen in gold braid now have another weighty problem to keep them in fighting mettle.

NOTE: Comptroller General Warren Lindsay, asked for an informal opinion on the Lasker plan, warned that he would not approve any expenditures for cash prizes.

CAPITAL CHAFF

There's a story going around Washington that Emperor Haile Selassie, after returning triumphant to his people in Ethiopia, sent a cable to Churchill saying, "Now that we've finished the job, what do we do with the tools?" . . . Daily diplomatic reports to the State Department from London are so voluminous it takes two hours merely to read them. . . . A new annex of the British Embassy is just being completed. This is the third addition to the Embassy establishment since the war began.

PROPHET

No. 1 prophet of the isolationist cause is Senator Burt Wheeler. Two years ago, Wheeler also made an interesting prophecy regarding the railroads.

To stimulate lagging heavy goods industries in 1939, the President sent to Congress the so-called Lend-Spend bill containing a $500,000,000 item whereby the government would finance the railroads in order to buy thousands of freight cars and other needed equipment.

Wheeler vehemently opposed this, contending the carriers had plenty of freight cars, and as chairman of the Interstate Commerce committee, was able to kill the plan.

Today, with each passing week setting new freight records, the railroads are frantically beseeching Defense chiefs for greater steel priorities to build freight cars which Wheeler had airily predicted were unnecessary. Of the 100,000 cars tardily ordered last winter for delivery by October, more than 20,000 will not be ready on time.

In fact, at the present rate of output of 6,000 a month, the full order will not be completed until next January.

THE WORD OF CHURCHILL

PEOPLE are so confused. They keep asking when we are going to get into the war. Only one man, said Winston Churchill, can put the United States into war. That man is Adolf Hitler. The United States attacks no nation.

But let us be clear about war. One kind is a shooting war. Great Britain is in that kind now. Another is a production war. We are in that kind. We have voted to stand by Great Britain with leasing, lending and making the means of war. There is no question about when or whether we are going into the war. We are in it now, up to our necks in production.

Whether or not we shall get into a shooting war no one yet knows. We are in a making war now. There is no such thing as peace on earth until the Nazi menace is put down. Talk about peace is futile for the present.

Our men in training are our reserve defense. We need and honor them. Our men in production are on the fighting lines. They are our first line defenders. They should be recognized and honored as such. They should know themselves as defenders and take their positions with seriousness and self-respect.

Most citizens believe that strikes and slow-downs as little place now as insurrection in the army or mutiny in the navy. Decent wages, hours not too long for health, are any worker's due. The soldiers are fed, clothed, sheltered and trained besides getting their twenty-one dollars. Greed has no standing. Jurisdictional arguments can wait. Duty and sacrifice are the order of the day. We have a war to win. The better we go at it the quicker it will be over.

BY-PASSING DAKAR

After all the puzzle and controversy about that port of Dakar, on the West African coast, as a peril to America and a possible stepping stone from America to Europe, apparently we don't need to bother about it.

Recent news indicates that Britain and the United States are arranging jointly for the use of a seaport in Sierra Leone, a British colony four or five hundred miles south of Dakar. It has a better seaport and doesn't have to be fought for. Apparently it will serve nicely as a landing and jumping-off place for American warplanes on the new routes being opened across North Africa to the Mediterranean and the Near East.

Incidentally the nearness to Dakar of such a British-American base may dissuade the Nazis from trying to seize the former place.

'ROUND CIRCLEVILLE ... Hour by Hour

Pages From the Diary of An Antiquated Reporter:

Out and about the village at the usual hour, finding but scanty stir. Visited the new phone company building and then with Dee Early went through the present quarters. In Dee's office is a beautiful black marble fireplace of considerable age. Comes out, of course, when the building is torn down. Looks like quite an item for anyone interested in antiques. One doesn't see that kind of fireplace now.

Coincidence bobs up everywhere. Some is interesting, some not. This one is. Jane Littleton and Mary Newmyer became brides August 24. Mr. and Mrs. George Littleton and Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Newmyer, parents of the brides also were married on the same day, the Littleton ceremony being performed in the Methodist parsonage here June 23, 1909, and the Newmyer nuptials being on the same day at Pittsburgh.

Saw the automobile in which two lost their lives north of town Tuesday morning. There really is a wreck. Might be a good idea to display that car in front of the courthouse to show motorists just what is possible to happen in an accident. I know that sight of such a wreck as that slows down my driving for a considerable period of time.

Noted with interest the grand jury's recommendations that the proper local authorities seek to impress the highway department with necessity for placement of flasher signals at the intersection of Routes 159 and 56 at Leisville and the intersection of 104 and 56 west of the village. Both are very dangerous crossings and need more protection than they have at the present time.

Came a card from Pete Neff, who with his wife and Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Stebleton, is vacationing at Lake Nippissing. Rain, cold and high winds have interfered with fishing, but some big ones have been caught and some muskies have been temporarily on hook. The North woods is a dismal place when the weather is bad.

ROOSEVELT'S ATTACK

WASHINGTON—There was real political dynamite behind that letter President Roosevelt sent the Young Democrats convention in Louisville blasting Democratic isolationists as "obstructionists who are in the wrong party."

The scorching attack was a tip-off on undercover plans which may make next year's congressional elections the hottest in years.

Nothing has been said about it, but certain Administration and Republican leaders have discussed uniting Democratic and Republican forces to oppose all congressional isolationists regardless of party label.

Under the proposed plan, Administration-GOP backing would be thrown behind incumbent anti-isolationist Congressmen whether they are Democrats or Republicans. Furthermore strong coalition candidates would be entered against isolationist Congressmen seeking re-election.

One of the most significant things about the plan is that it has the hearty approval of Wendell Willkie.

Discussing it with a group of friends the GOP standard bearer declared, "The people should have the opportunity in every senatorial and congressional election next year for a clear-cut expression of opinion on this all-important issue of foreign policy. This referendum should not be cluttered up with phony or inconsequential issues.

"In districts represented by isolationists we should put the strongest candidate in the field we can get, regardless of his party label or economic views. I'd like to see young men and women brought into this campaign. Let's get away from the old political hacks. Let's bring youth into this fight. It's theirs primarily and they should be in the lead in it.

"Personally, I am prepared to support anti-isolationist candidates regardless of their party affiliation or economic views. If they are right on the foreign issue, then I will be for them and will take the stump for them."

BETWEEN CHURCHILL'S LEGS

Falla knows the story of the bone, but he won't talk, so we had to get it from the Secret Service.

The President's black Scottie, Falla, went with him for the historic meeting with Churchill. When the serious talks began, a Marine was instructed to take the dog away and entertain him.

The best entertainment for a dog, reasoned the Marine, is a bone, so he provided a large one from the ship's galley. Falla took it, but instead of dropping to the floor for a contented gnaw, he ran away.

The Marine pursued, and when he finally caught up with Falla, the dog was attacking the bone in a strategic position between two pairs of legs. One pair belonging to Winston Churchill, and the other pair belonged to his master.

POLITICAL-GO-ROUND

Some Democratic leaders in Oregon have launched a movement to give the State's able, veteran Senator Charles McNary the Democratic as well as the Republican label.

Gleans List of Football Deaths and Casualties

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

● Last year when I protested against the useless and senseless annual crop of injuries in football, I was told that there was "not very much football injury."

Inasmuch as reports that various coaches and athletic directors give out are utterly unreliable, I employed a clipping bureau to send me the records of all football injuries. My list is not a complete list, I am sure, because my clipping bureau operates in only one section of the country, and in mid-season I had to ask for a wider distribution of reports. But even so, the summary is appalling.

Dr. Clending will answer questions of general interest only, and then only through his column.

I take the liberty of laying these results before the fathers and mothers whose boys are urged to play in High School football. It would also apply to college football but the players there should be old enough to look out for themselves.

Nature of Injury

Total number of men injured (some received more than one injury), 675.
College or University 192
High School or Junior College 443
Grade School 21

Nature of Injury: deaths, 9; amputations, 2; brain hemorrhage, 2; ruptured kidneys, 9; eye, 4; neck, 9; split tongue, 2; fractured vertebrae, 7; concussions, 16; internal injuries, 12; collarbone, 24; face injuries, 11; Charlie horse, 12; chest, 2; heart attack, 1; blood infection, 1; ruptured blood vessel, 1; teeth knocked out, 3; head, 14; lime burns, 15; back, 17; dislocations, 15.

Broken Bones: hip, 2; hand, 2; pelvis, 1; skull, 3; wrist, 7; jaw, 3. Sprains: ankle, 45; wrist, 2; unspecified, 27. Knee: broken, 2; unspecified, 91. Ankle: broken, 22; unspecified, 21. Shoulder: broken, 5; unspecified, 53. Rib: broken, 8; unspecified, 5. Arm: broken, 18; unspecified, 15. Nose: broken, 14; unspecified, 4. Foot: broken, 4; unspecified, 13. Leg: broken, 56; unspecified, 62. Unspecified (but evidently not minor), 66.

A Ghastly Record

What a ghastly record! Nine deaths — without counting one mother who committed suicide because her son was killed in a game.

Why this unnecessary and avoidable carnage? For the honor of the school? Nonsense — scholarship constitutes the honor of the school. No-for a game only a few can play, that injures rather than promotes health, that is abysmal in its stupidity, that in ethics has descended to the level of the numbers racket.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

C. D. B.: "What causes a heart to skip beats? My fiancée is bothered by this trouble. Sometimes the skips are quite frequent. She had a near nervous breakdown about ten years ago, and is subject to moderate depressive spells."

Answer: Skipping heart-beats that can be felt by the patient are a common form of the regularity of the heart and have no serious significance. They are called extrasystoles and are probably caused by nervousness.

EDITOR'S NOTE: Dr. Clending has seven pamphlets which can be obtained by readers. Each pamphlet sells for 10 cents. For any one pamphlet desired, send 10 cents in coin, and a self-addressed envelope stamped with a three-cent stamp, to Dr. Logan Clending, in care of this paper. The pamphlets are: "Three Weeks' Bedding Diet," "Indigestion and Constipation," "The Simplest and Safest Diet," "Infant Feeding," "Instructions for the Treatment of Diabetes," "Feminine Hygiene" and "The Care of the Hair and Skin."

Looking Back in Pickaway County

FIVE YEARS AGO

Mr. and Mrs. Leland Pontius, North Court Street, were in Cedar Point for the week, attending the state convention of the B. P. O. E. Mr. Pontius was delegate from the Circleville lodge.

Paul Elliott, Circleville Route 3, suffered a fractured vertebrae in a fall at the Ladoga canning factory and was placed in a cast at Berger Hospital where he would be a patient for six weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Coit Balcker and son, Coit, returned to their home in Santa Monica, Cal., after spending a few weeks with relatives in Circleville and Chillicothe.

10 YEARS AGO

Negotiations were under way to secure the St. Joseph's school building for the use of Wayne Township pupils until the new building for the township was completed.

J. O. Eagleson, superintendent of Circleville Schools, was to receive his master of arts degree at the summer convocation of Ohio State University. Joseph

W. Adkins Jr. was to receive his bachelor of arts degree at the same time.

Mrs. Mabel Walling of West Mound Street was convalescing in New York City after an appendicitis operation.

25 YEARS AGO

The Deutschland, a German submarine built for carrying merchandise, arrived in Bremen after a trip to Baltimore, Md., loaded with dyestuffs and mail.

Mrs. H. P. Lorchback and son, Harry, and daughter, Miss Mignon, left for a motor trip to Cleveland where they were to visit Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Groner.

Renick W. Dunlap was in charge of the exhibit which the Southern Cattle Feeding company had at the Ohio State Fair.

A Kelso, Wash., man owned a mongrel dog named Jiggs who was very fond of ice cream and had a charge account in every ice cream store in town. Jiggs would go into the store and bark, and the proprietor would serve him what he wanted and would know him.

Castle of Contentment

By LORENA CARLETON
WRITTEN FOR AND RELEASED BY CENTRAL PRESS ASSOCIATION

CHAPTER THIRTY-SIX

SCOTT BEGAN his campaign the following morning over coffee at one of the sidewalk cafes. In a serious voice he addressed Ylena and Rose. "There's more to Havana than Sloppy Joe's and Morro Castle. There's a baker's dozen of these kind of places, and we should have at least coffee at every one of them before we go back to La Madera. There's Castilla de la Punta and the Castles Principe, Cabanas and Atares. You owe it to your historical soul to visit them. And La Merced Cathedral and the Beneficencia Convent full of orphans. There's Columbia Cathedral, where Columbus is supposed to be buried — although I'll bet he isn't — and the Hersey sugar mills and the cock fights, if you can stomach them — oh, there are ever so many places, Ylena — we're going everywhere!"

They did. And as days followed, one after the other, the girl realized there was heart-balm in travel, that her injured feelings were salvaged in the diligent but delightful work connected with being a tourist. There was no time to brood. Scott saw to that. Time had to be spent planning, in dressing, eating, and in open-mouthed, wide-eyed gawking, as they made their way here and there on various expeditions.

To the several fortresses where Ylena tried earnestly to form mental pictures of the past. To the convent where benign nuns watching over solemn, pathetic little orphans, gave soft-voiced Spanish assurance that they were to accept the candy and toys from the visitors. To En Canto, where Scott bought Ylena an embroidered Spanish shawl, bottles of French perfume, a mantilla, and handkerchiefs of gossamer lace. To the peaceful cathedrals.

Late afternoons, they strolled along the streets, grateful that the upper stories of business building projected over the sidewalks, and provided shade. And at night they walked along the Prado, where the moonlight sifted through the arched laurel trees and fell upon the patterned marble in silvery patches.

When they had done the town, competently, Scott began his familiar tour. "There's more to Cuba than Havana. The tourist bureau is right."

Rose said dryly, "He's started again. I'll begin packing."

"You must admit it's foolish," Hamilton persisted, "for Ylena not to see the island while we're here. Let's go to Mariel. The Cuban Naval Academy is there, and to Batabanero on the Caribbean to watch the sponge fishermen."

"Sponge," Ylena said. "That reminds me, I'm probably the biggest one up to date. We've got to get down to work figuring out my share of the cost of this trip, Scott."

"Wait until we get back to La Madera, where we have an adding machine." He squinted his eyes and continued plans. "Let's hire Pepe to drive us so we can just sit back and relax. We'll go down the Central highway to Mantanzas, and see the beautiful Caves of Bellamar. And Ylena," he smiled in malicious good humor, "you haven't really lived until you have seafood at the Gran Paris in Mantanzas. We'll drop down to Cienfuegos. It has a gorgeous old cathedral with altars enough for everybody and a nice old colonial cemetery to prowl around in. The countryside is full of rivers and cascades, so you'd better see them while you can. You won't have any water in the rivers when you get back to La Madera. We can go over to Trinidad and scout around. That's the second oldest town in Cuba. Has ancient colonial residences. Some paved with old-time coins of gold, Ylena. Be a good stunt for some of your exclusive customers. Tish or old Alkire, either one might go for something fancy like that. What do you say to the idea?" He looked toward Ylena.

"It leaves me breathless," she said. Verbally exhausted, Scott gulped air. "It leaves me breathless, too."

The tooth-displaying Pepe, when approached, was rapturous over a trip, but desolated over leaving Posephina, his bride of two weeks. Very quickly he dropped hot tears over the thought, until Hamilton suggested Josephina as a maid for Ylena, whereupon the tears ceased as quickly as they had popped forth. Ylena sent a message to Barker, outlining their itinerary, suggesting that important and personal mail be sent either to Santiago de Cuba or Kingston, Jamaica, and gave her the approximate dates they would be in those cities. The tour began, Ylena, Scott and Rose back of a pair of honeymooning doves.

In aimless wandering, they lost all track of time and duty. There it was, unwinding before them, rich, lush beauty, inescapable, irresistible. Mountain ranges, dense tropical forests of royal palms, fields of sugar cane, tobacco and pineapple. Banana groves. Interesting little historical villages, typically Cuban. Everywhere, lovely hotels with 18-foot ceilings and tiled floors. A particularly charming one was in Camaguey, the "sugar bowl" of Cuba, a cavalry barracks, originally, a place of spacious corridors and tropical flower gardens. Fat earthen jars were everywhere.

Scott informed his companions, "These were used to store water during colonial days."

"I thought they were used to store Al Baba," Rose said. Despite crisp remarks, Rose was enjoying every minute of the trip. Both she and Ylena were gaining, not only physically, but mentally.

From there they made their way on through mountainous splendor, down to ancient Santiago de Cuba, perched on the edge of the Caribbean.

"We'll rest at this jumping-off place," Scott decided for the group, "while we make up our minds what to do next."

Days of doing nothing — just resting, eating, sleeping, swimming, sauntering through the streets, climbing to Bonfata hill for a superb view of the city. A lapse of memory of a very pleasant, caressing, unfrustrating sort.

"Having a good time, Ylena?" Scott asked her during one of their meandering walks.

"Of course!" she instantly responded. He asked quickly, "What day is it?"

"Tuesday," she said, then changed her mind. "No — Wednesday. She looked falteringly at Hamilton and spread her hands in a puzzled gesture. "I don't know what day it is."

Scott laughed. "That just goes to prove how unimportant time is."

On Sunday they watched the "promenade" from the veranda of the Casa Grande hotel, and finally joined it, marching around and around to the music of the band, along with the young Cuban men in their white suits, and the dark-eyed romantically thrilled girls.

After that Sunday ceremony they went to one of the native places where Scott's expert Spanish and experience with the Latins gained them a safe welcome. There they lingered over rum and iced lime juice water and listened to the natives, playing and singing either their doleful wailing music, or that spanking, rhythmic kind, so typical of the island, beating the cases of their guitars. It was fun to watch the people, to sense, rather than be assured of, the exciting and sinister activities taking place about them.

Ylena's voice was lazily ecstatic. "I could sit in a country like this forever. This balmy comfort, nothing to worry about — it's marvelous."

Scott said, smiling, "You're developing the manana attitude."

"Manana attitude, nothing! I'm developing the day after manana attitude." Idly she looked about the dining room, which was quite large. On the walls were several water colors, native market scenes mostly, in almost glaring colors. "I like those water colors. Sometime when I get the energy I must get close enough to see who did them."

"Better not," Scott recommended. "Probably came from some factory in Newark, N. J."

Scott's ridicule brought spontaneous laughter from the girl. Her lazy green eyes continued to rove over the cafe. Then suddenly they widened and stayed that way, set and horror-stricken. Following her gaze, Scott turned and saw a slim, debonair man entering the cafe, with spidery grace, he seated himself at a table near the door, directly beneath one of the water colors they had been discussing, and imperiously beckoned a waiter.

Scarcely moving his lips, Scott Hamilton asked in a quick, soft voice, "Who?"

Ylena managed to answer: "Clarkson."

QUESTION: Today I found my maiden hair fern covered with the same sticky scale which I have washed from by strawberry plants. It is almost impossible to clean the fern this way. Is there an oil spray I can apply to it that will remove the scale? Mrs. J. L. B., Oak Harbor.

ANSWER: The scale on house plants may be controlled by spraying them with the greenhouse form of a commercial oil spray.

QUESTION: What can I do to keep the sparrows away from my zinnias? They stand right in the blooms and pick the petals off one by one. Mrs. R. B. H., Dayton.

ANSWER: Although there are regular sparrow traps on the market which can be used successfully, I believe you will be able to make a temporary one by using half-inch hardware cloth or wire netting over a frame of 1 by 4 inch wooden strips. If you will place grain under neath this (prop it up with a stick and pull the stick out with a long piece of string when the sparrows are feeding underneath it, you should be able to catch most of them. It is a simple matter to reach under the screen, catch the sparrows, and break their necks.

QUESTION: The last two years I have had millions of ants in my flower garden, consequently have lost all of my zinnias with root aphids. I have tried tobacco, tar emetic and several ant powders, all of which kill some ants but not enough to save the zinnias. Is there any way this fall or winter I can get to the source of this trouble? I have black and red ants, large and small ants, Mrs. J. M., Cincinnati.

ANSWER: The control of ants in the garden calls for persistent and constant effort with the regular application of poisons to kill the ants. I would suggest to reduce the population for next year that you start immediately and kill as many of them as possible. I have had excellent results with a mixture of one ounce paris green, one pound brown sugar and about half a cupful of some form of grease, sprinkling this in very small amounts in those sections of the garden where the ants are found. This seems to control all except the large black ones. Some people control these by pouring kerosene, gasoline, or similar materials down the holes. This usually kills any plants whose roots are in the hill. It is now possible to buy poison gas in small cans for this purpose. I believe you will find this efficient.

QUESTION: Will you please tell me how often to water a rock garden, also a flower garden? I am a firm believer in depending on the rain and only watering thoroughly about twice a season. However, my neighbor says I am

WALKS BY VANDY BRING THUMPING BY DODGERS, 4-2

BROOKLYN, Aug. 28—The Cincinnati Redlegs had a day of rest today after losing to the league-leading Brooklyn Dodgers, 4 to 2, and big, lumbering Ernie Lombardi, Redleg catcher, probably needed it.

The huge Lombardi amazed Dodger fans by stealing second after getting the first hit off Kirby Higbe in the fifth frame of last night's game. It was his first theft of the season and one of the few of his baseball career.

Winks, given by Johnny Vander Meer, was the difference between victory and defeat for the Dodgers. Johnny walked eight men although allowing only seven hits, the same number collected by his teammates.

The loss put the Reds 9½ games behind the league leaders and cut their chances of winning a third straight National League pennant considerably.

TOLEDO'S DRIVE FOR POSITION IN PLAYOFF IS HOT

By International News Service
 The late season drive of the Toledo Mud Hens for a place in the American Association playoff neared a climax today as Fred Haney's outfit moved to within one game of a first division berth.

The Hens, behind Harry Kimberlin's six-hit hurling, defeated Indianapolis, 3-1 last night while Minneapolis and Kansas City both took lacerations to remain in a virtual tie for fourth position, a single game ahead of the Toledo nine.

While the Mud Hen battle to move into the first division held the center of the stage, the Louisville Colonels continued to give the Columbus Red Birds plenty of trouble in the latter's fight for the championship. The second-place Colonels scored a single run in the ninth inning last night to edge the Birds, 5-4 and cut the margin of the loop-leaders to 7½ games.

Vedl Hims, St. Paul Saint hurler, set the Kansas City Blues down with two hits to win, 3-0. Hims allowed but five men to reach first, three of them on walks.

Milwaukee's vastly improved Brewers slipped over two runs in the tenth frame to defeat Minneapolis, 6-4 in a game sparked by wild scoring in the ninth inning. The Brewers pushed across three runs in their half of the ninth to go ahead but the hard-hitting Millers came back to tie it up with four markers in the bottom half of the ninth.

The same teams play today.

PERDON the Brooklynese, but then Dodgers is got the borough of choices in a termier. Here is Dolf Camilli, foist baseman, mobbed by autograph bugs at Ebbsfield Field, where the Dodgers and the St. Louis Cards (Boo!) fought a crucial series. And then Dodgers better win that flag. Yerse.

Dodger, Cardinal Race To Be Bitter To End

By Lawton Carver
NEW YORK, Aug. 28—With all the clubs in the American League mathematically eliminated from the pennant race, excepting only Chicago, Boston and Cleveland, the New York Yankees need only a half dozen wins, give or take a couple, to settle the issue even among that trio, but what about the National League?

In a few words, that one either will be dragged out to a bitter late September end, or the Brooklyn Dodgers or St. Louis Cardinals will crack under this pressure and make it easy for the one that can stand the gaff.

With their battered lineup, the Cardinals came east to take on the Dodgers at Ebbsfield Field and emerged with a draw after four games, then smashed the Giants around last night by 8 to 5 to stay 1½ games behind the league leaders. The Dodgers meantime beat the Cincinnati Reds, 4 to 2.

From the way things are shaping up on the basis of the Cards' invasion through enemy territory, the least you can say about them is that they are tough and don't figure to get any softer. They are not losing any ground away from home at a time when they can't muster a full complement of first string men.

They made 15 hits last evening off Hubbell and Brown and, although Ernie White couldn't win, they went on to victory behind Gumbert.

Kirby Higbe, who couldn't beat the Cards, scored his 18th win for the Dodgers over the Reds, and allowed only seven hits.

STAGE SET FOR ALL-STAR GRID GAME TONIGHT

Chicago Bears Remain As Favorites; 98,200 May Be In Crowd

CHICAGO, Aug. 28—The college all-stars, picked by the fans as the outstanding collegiate football players of 1940, will clash with the professional champion Chicago Bears in Soldier Field tonight in the eighth game in the all-star football series.

A crowd of 98,200—largest sports crowd gathered in Chicago in more than 10 years—is expected to witness the contest, in which the Bears have been made the favorites at odds ranging from 3 to 1 to 5 to 1.

The pros lead in the series, with three victories to two for the all-stars. Two games ended in ties. Tonight the Bears will seek to ring up the third straight win for the professionals, the New York Giants having won, 9 to 0, in 1939, and the Green Bay Packers by 45 to 28 last year.

Both squads came up to the game after less than three weeks of practice, but apparently in top condition. The lone injury reported among the Bears was a slightly bruised knee suffered by Sid Luckman, quarterback and passing wizard, but the injury was regarded so lightly he will start the game. Marion Pugh, Texas Aggies quarterback, was the only injured all-star. He had a swollen elbow, but will be in uniform.

As usual, the game will be garnished with elaborate entertainment and ceremonies before the whistle and between halves. Among the spectators will be 5,000 soldiers and sailors from training camps in the Chicago area, and the navy men will put on a between-halves exhibition at which four of the all-stars, Dave Rankin of Purdue, Bobby Sagar of Notre Dame, George Franck of Minnesota, and Ed Frutig of Michigan, will be inducted into service.

GOVERNOR'S CUP TO DRAW FAST HORSES TO FAIR

COLUMBUS, Aug. 28—The feature event at today's Ohio State Fair harness races was the governor's stake for Ohio-owned three-year-old trotters.

Among the 10 entries are Peter, Dr. H. M. Marshall's starter, in the Hambletonian a few weeks ago, and Lansdown, winner of the Director of Agriculture Stake last year.

Yesterday's Director of Agriculture stakes was won by Summer Sun, racing in the colors of Maj. Lanning Parsons of Mt. Vernon and driven by Wayne Smart.

The son of Lord Jim raced to straight heat victories in the two-year-old trotting feature in the time of 2:13.3 and 2:14.4. Summer Sun is three-quarters of a brother to High Noon, which raced to a world's record on the Ohio State Fair eight years ago.

Peter Lee S, driven by Rowe, followed Summer Sun across the wire in the opening mile while in the second Collector, driven by Johnny Caton, chased the winner under the finish line.

The Ohio Pacing Derby, which attracted 16 starters, was raced in two sections. Senator Abbe, owned and driven by O. H. Lowen of Wilmington, O., won the last two heats of the second division. Royal At Law, with Ernie Smith in the sulky, copped the first heat.

Lowen walked off with the trophy, however, as Senator Abbe was clocked in the fastest time, 2:05. The three heats in the first division were taken by as many horses. Modern Maiden, driven by Gabe Cartnall, won the first; Queen Wilks skipped by "Sandy" Russell, annexed the second, and Belmar Mc, owned by Charles Foster of Kenton, captured the third with "Slim" Shilling in the sulky.

HOME RUNS
 Yesterday's Homers—America League: Heath, Indians 2; Henrich, Yankees; York, Tigers; Vernon, Senators; Solters, White Sox. National League: Young, Giants; W. Cooper, Cardinals; Nicholson, Cubs.

Leaders—American: Keller, Yankees 32; Williams, Red Sox 28; DiMaggio, Yankees 27. National: Camilli, Dodgers 27; Nicholson, Cubs 24; Ott, Giants 23.
